BRITAIN MOBILIZING FOR WAR

ONLY 46 BODIES OF MINERS BONUS VETO SUSTAINED BY SENATE

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The Senate today sustained President Harding's veto of the bonus bill for World War I veterans. The vote was 54 to 46, with 46 yeas and 46 nays. The bill provided for a bonus of $1,000 to $15,000 for veterans who served in the war. The Senate vote was a narrow margin, and the bill will now go back to the House for reconsideration. The President's veto was based on the grounds that the bill was unconstitutional and that it would place an undue burden on the Treasury.

ARMY DIRIGIBLE IS EXPECTED IN EL PASO TODAY

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 21.—The Army dirigible C-3 cleared the hangar at Brooks Field here at 12:30 o'clock this morning and began its flight to El Paso. It is expected to reach El Paso by noon.

Overseers Say His Veto of Bonus Measure Strengthens Him With Country

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—It is over. In a stillness so profound that the Senate's vote was checked up, confirmed as being to sustain the President's veto of the bonus bill. The public good above political expediency, and in putting the disfavor of those of the country, who have asked the bonus. Examples of outstanding courage among public men have not been many in recent years. The spectacle in the House today of scores of members clamoring in the well before the Speaker for "leave to extend remarks on the bonus bill in the record," gives point to this observation. They were members who want to have printed fulsome addresses of praise for the gallant soldiers for circulation next week. Speaker Vorhees refused to grant the request. The fact that the members whose names are attached voted for the bonus. No courage, but the reverse of it, here. If, in Shakespeare's day, the grace of devotion, patience, courage and fortitude were held to be particularly becoming to a king, so today those qualities of public men are admired by the American people.

Slaying of Minister and Singer Stirs All New Jersey

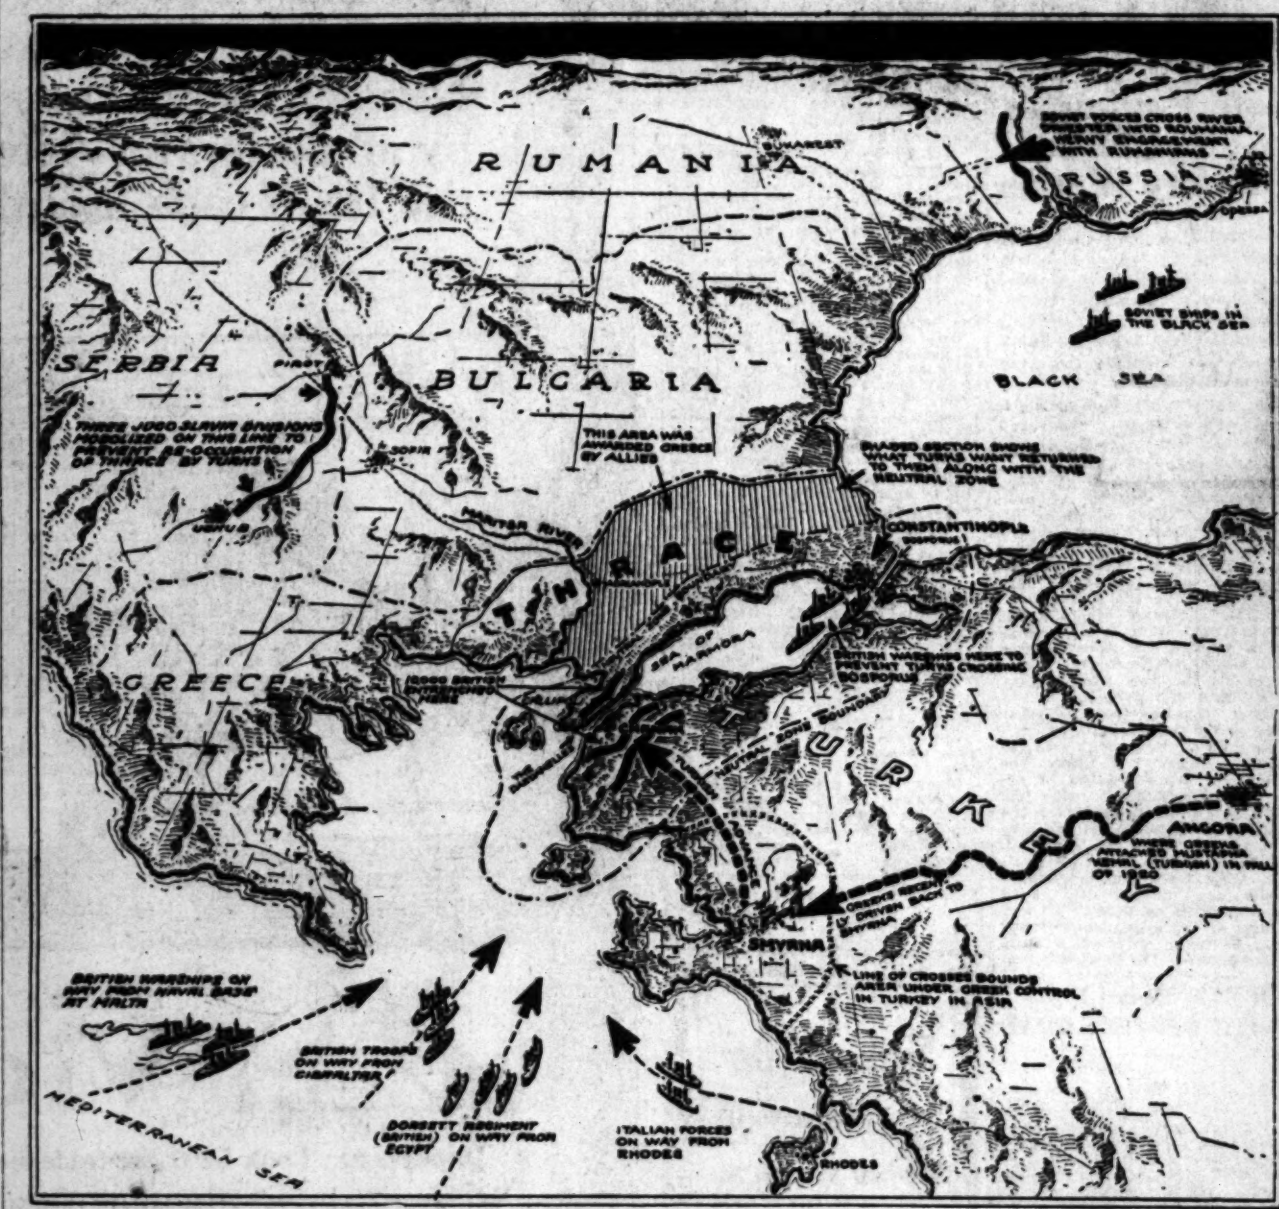

The Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills. This picture was sent by wire to The Times from Chicago last night by means of the telephotographer.

NEW BRUNSWICK (N. J.) Sept. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]

Developments in the investigation of the Hall-Mills double murder case today included the questioning of William Stevens, wealthy but mentally incompetent brother-in-law of the slain Edward W. Hall, rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, and the announcement by detectives that James Mills, husband of the other victim, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, Hall's choir leader, had been eliminated as a suspect. For the first time since the discovery Saturday morning of the bodies beneath an apple tree near the deserted house on the Phillips farm, a witness has been found who saw two automobiles, dashing from the vicinity in which the slayings are thought to have occurred. These automobiles, investigators believe, may play an important part in the clearing of the mystery. Charles Jones, an automobile dealer and his wife, Estelle, were startled by a woman's screams about 11:30 last Thursday night, the night of the crime. Mrs. Jones ran to her front window, she says, and saw the car speeding by. They came from the direction of Landing Lane. This lane is near De Ruyter Lane, which borders the Phillips farm. The Jones family and the family of Harry McCabe, members of which also heard screams on the night of the slaying, live within a stone's throw of each other. A new theory advanced tonight is that the minister and choir singer were lured to some out of the way spot in an automobile and murdered and their bodies left where they were found Saturday morning. The cars which Mrs. Jones saw were dashing toward New Brunswick at such a rate of speed that she was unable to distinguish the number of the occupants of either car. Detectives today examined the automobile in the Hall garage, after having visited Mrs. Hall in her home where she remains in seclusion. Prosecutor Stricker of

PREPARING TO DEAL TERRIFIC BLOW TO TURK

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20.—The British are mobilizing every available warship, man, horse, automobile, cannon and rifle within reach of the troubled zone. They are preparing to deal a tremendous blow by land, sea and air, if provoked by the Kemalists army, which, according to the latest reports, is concentrating feverishly around Ismid and Chanak.

All the British barracks in Constantinople have been evacuated and troops are marching in the streets of the capital, which is having a sobering effect upon the exuberant Turks. The British soldiers are headed for strategic points on the straits.

General headquarters has issued an official order directing the wives and families of British officers and soldiers to prepare to embark tomorrow. Transports with British cavalry, heavy artillery and supplies are arriving at Haidarpasha, on the Ismid railway. The men of the Constantinople garrison are constructing intrenchments at Scutari, on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus, which will be the second line of defense, the first being at Yarinja, a small railway station between Haidarpasha and Ismid.

The British police forces in the capital have been greatly augmented and will probably be assisted by French gendarmes. It is estimated that the present total British strength in Constantinople and the Dardanelles area is about 15,000 men, which, when reinforcements now on the way arrive, will be increased to nearly 25,000. These forces will be further strengthened by large detachments from the Atlantic and Mediterranean seas.

The British are enrolling Russian refugees with military training for auxiliary work, while Russian Kalmaiks from Manchuria are being recruited as horse trainers. It is expected that eventually the British will be able to maintain a strong position in the Near East. (Continued on Third Page)

ALLIES HURRIEDLY CALL CONFERENCE ON TURK THREATS

PARIS, Sept. 20.—Definite assurance that there will be no war in the Near East and the calling of a peace conference for the settlement of the Turkish problem were the chief results of the Allied meeting this afternoon. Premier Poincare, Lord Curzon and Count Sforza were the participants in the conference.

The eight interested powers, including the Ankara government, will gather around the peace table within three weeks, probably at Rome or Venice, and make a new treaty with Turkey to take the place of the Treaty of Sèvres. The eight nations called together are Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Turkey, Greece, Rumania and Yugoslavia.

Japan's inclusion at the last minute came as a surprise. It was due to Lord Curzon's insistence. The British Foreign Secretary told Premier Poincare that his government frankly feared the close association it had reason to believe existed between Moscow and Ankara, and Japan's presence was desired to offset this Bolshevik influence.

It is remarked in French circles that the participation of Japan insures another vote for British policy in any treaty which may arise in the conference. M. Poincare, in consenting to the presence of Japan, demanded also the presence of Rumania and Yugoslavia. While the United States was not included among the eight governments to participate, it is regarded as certain that a mild intimation from the American government that it desires to attend, even as an observer, will be followed by an instant invitation from the Allies.

PREMIERS IN ACCORD
Lord Curzon, M. Poincare and Count Sforza were in complete accord that there should be no war in the Near East, but Lord Curzon asserted that Great Britain felt that the presence of a strong fleet in the straits was necessary to maintain freedom of passage. While insisting on what they term their legitimate claims to Eastern Thrace, Adrianople and Constantinople, the Turks are understood to have informed M. Poincare that they would consent to remain masters of Asia Minor until the conference had given consideration to these other claims. French officials are confident tonight of a complete agreement with Great Britain when the Allied meeting resumes on Friday, and it is freely predicted that the British troops will retire. On the other hand, late tonight, in reply to a question, it was authoritatively stated in British quarters that the British troops were not to be demobilized until the Turkish situation had been brought to a point where they might remain there with the tacit approval of the Turks.

SUDDEN CONFERENCE
LONDON, Sept. 20.—Beyond the fact that the result of Lord Curzon's conduct at Paris with Premier Poincare was an agreement among the three Allied powers, Great Britain, France and Italy, on the advisability of convening a peace conference, little has become known of today's developments in the Near East crisis.

The sudden and unexpected call for a ministerial conference in London, this afternoon, which led to a formal council, caused renewed alarms concerning possible critical developments, but these were allayed later, when, although no official communication was issued throwing light on the origin of the sudden conference, it was intimated that the situation instead of having undergone a change for the worse, might be considered much easier. The assumption is that the council considered the projected peace conference.

Islam Uprisings in Mesopotamia and India Becoming General; Garrison and Towns Captured

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20.—An Anatolian agency announces a communique from Mardin on the frontiers of Iraq of several uprisings in Northern Mesopotamia which are rapidly becoming general. Abulkert Bay, chief of the Hema-vond tribe, has declared war against the British and has taken over Sulaimanli, Chem-Chamal and other near-by villages. The first encounter was in the locality of Indemir, when his men killed a British major, two captains and several soldiers. Later Abulkert was reinforced by the tribes of Singheue and Dine and attacked Allahi, defeating a British garrison and capturing their arms, ammunition and twenty machine guns. It is claimed that all the other British forces in Northern Iraq have been surrounded or cut off from one another and that an airplane bombardment proved ineffective, twenty planes having been brought down there lately. It is claimed that the British are preparing to evacuate Mosul. Emir Feisal has been warned that if he accepts the British mandate for Northern Iraq, he will meet a worse fate than he got at Damascus.

ARTICLE NO. 1
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

JACKSON, Sept. 20.—There is no doubt that men will tell in days to come how forty-seven miners died in the Argonaut to save the lives of underground workers all over the United States. For the disaster has taught the necessity of a second exit for every mine, which shall be an exit in fact as well as in name. Already officials of the United States Bureau of Mines are being quoted to the effect that such a law should stand on the statute books.

Miners were saying the same thing long ago on Jackson's streets. Now that their words are beginning to get official sanction, it is interesting to speculate on what might have happened if the Muldoon shaft had been equipped with hoisting machinery instead of being nothing more useful than an air vent.

MULDON SHALT USELESS
As the law stands, the owners of the Argonaut complied with it in full. It specifies two exits and there is no doubt that if a man took time enough and had the strength he could climb to the surface through the Muldoon shaft—provided the fans were not going, and provided also that there were no gas to catch him during the hours of his slow and tortuous progress.

But as it was, in the light of what took place down there nearly a mile under the ground, one is justified in wondering what thoughts may have crossed the minds of the slowly suffocated men who happened to remember the existence of that Muldoon shaft and the present law on the subject of mine exits. It is not a pleasant subject, but sometimes unpleasant contemplations are worth while.

They are not only worth while, but they are bound to intrude themselves at times like this.

DEAD MAY HAVE OTHERS
There is another in the knowledge of how these men died. The three bulkheads down in the 4350 level—the last of them but one—were completed—tell more vividly than any words how they retained their self-possession and went on calmly working, fighting to the very last.

To one who has been underground it is not hard to picture a great deal of what was going on in those depths on that night in late August. It was all done in the shadow of a great silence, the stillness of the underground passages. The forty-seven were scattered through three lower levels of the mine, two or three of them in a stop—some of those caverns which are as large as a good sized ballroom, with places overhead where the rock roof vanishes among the shadows—wedging in a set of timbers, a pair of men at the end of a drift working with jigger drills, whose noise awakens distant echoes others shoveling at a damp pile of muck, loading the stuff into iron wheelbarrows.

Some one had occasion to go to the shaft as likely as not it was a helper after new lengths of steel or perhaps a laborer after some wedges for some timbering. A solitary man walking through a long passageway, whose sides are lined with rows of huge, thick timbers, he pauses an interval where these plumb posts cease and there is nothing about him but the naked rock, whose irregular surface glistens dully, reflecting the rays from the carbide lamp on his forehead.

SILENCE IS TANGIBLE
Then more timbers and always the silence. It is as tangible as if it were a sound. His footfalls make a great silence. He is a lean-faced man with arms bare to the elbow, clad lightly in denim, for it is sticky hot down there—like a superheated cellar. He is walking unconcernedly enough until he hears the station. Here, where the passageway had enlarged, there should be a light shining against the three shaft entrances. But the lamp is out.

He hastens his pace when he perceives that. And as he reaches the spacious room with its piles of steel and wooden wedges on either side, his sharpened senses tell him a truth that hits him between the eyes.
"The shaft is dead."
The lift of air and the vibration which are never hardly so much as audible—yet their lack leaves an appalling void—these things which should tell of the straining cables and the moving skips, have gone.

Now he gets the faint first whiff of wood smoke and he knows what it is that has happened. So he turns and he retraces his footsteps. And as he runs he goes over in his mind the number of his companions on this level. They got off at the station with him when he came down in the skip; he remembers the places where he left them, the passages into which they turned aside. He seeks them out and tells them and the little group take counsel, comparing notes.

There is no doubt as to what to do. And that is not to seek safety, not yet.

PHOTOS ARE RUSHED BY AIRPLANE

"Times" Prints Exclusive Pictures of Argonaut Mine Victims' Recovery

Carrying the first pictures of the recovery of the mine victims from the depths of the Argonaut, a Standard plane roared above the Rogers airport yesterday afternoon, bringing to the Times exclusive pictures of the discovery which horrified the nation when the Argonaut was mined.

Speeding at an eighty-mile average from Jackson, the plane, piloted by Frank Tomlin, and carrying C. Harding Babb, a veteran of the World War, who bore the mine disaster pictures, ended its trip at 5:12 p.m. yesterday. They had left Jackson at 11 a.m. At Madera, they stopped from 12:30 to 2:15 p.m. and then on to the Tehachapi range, an altitude of 10,000 feet, was reached.

Mine Victims Eulogized by Safety Worker

The victims of the Jackson mine disaster and the valiant men who sought their rescue were eulogized as "soldiers of peace" in an address given before the City Club yesterday by Will J. French, chairman of the California Industrial Accident Commission.

"The heart of California is bowed with grief over the result of this unparalleled accident and everything possible is being done to assuage the sorrow of the principal sufferers," said Mr. French.

Speaking of the alarming increase of accidents throughout the country, the speaker called attention to the fact that St. Louis has introduced safety education into the curriculum of its schools.

"Dr. E. G. Payne of St. Louis leads the movement to make children a part of the safety movement, just as they are an integral part of health and thrift movements," said Mr. French.

"There are altogether too many deaths and injuries resulting from the hazards of the street," said the speaker. "There is no one remedy for this condition of affairs. It is a community-wide job. Laws and ordinances governing the operations of automobiles and other vehicles must be enforced. Careless practices must be abolished. A rigid examination should precede the issuance of each license to drive an automobile and the least evidence of incompetency should be made sufficient ground for withdrawing the license."

SHOPMEN SIGN UP WITH WESTERN ROAD

(BY A. F. MORT WIRE).
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—The Western Pacific Railroad Company today signed an agreement with its striking shopmen, and they were ordered to return to work Friday at the shops in Sacramento and elsewhere. As far as is known it is the first Pacific Coast road to settle with the strikers. This settlement was under the Jewell-Willard plan which settled the strike on a number of eastern roads.

DIG GRAVES FOR MINE VICTIMS

ing to their gruesome task until its completion.

Searching inquiry into the cause of the mine disaster will be made Friday at the coroner's inquest, Thomas G. Negrich, District Attorney, announced. He declared all facts relating to the mine disaster would be brought out. He refused to state whether any criminal or civil action would be taken.

RELATIVES VISIT MORGUE
Relatives of the miners today clustered about the big Argonaut mill where an improvised morgue was established and the dead received and prepared for burial. Brief inspections were made of each to verify early identification. Throughout the strain of the last three weeks Jackson has borne up bravely. There has been no hysteria, instead a rather grave silence is noticeable over the town. Those who know miners' temperament declare a strong undercurrent of feeling covers their silence.

The coroner's jury reviewed two of the recovered bodies and adjourned until after the funerals, which will take place Friday. As now planned, the inquest will start Friday. Little testimony will be taken, however, and the inquest may not be resumed until next Monday or Tuesday.

AIRPLANES ORDERED
In response to a telephone request two government airplanes were ordered to leave San Francisco today with 250 pounds each of embalming fluid.

Funeral arrangements are being made for the three recovered bodies. The Roman Catholic, the Protestant and the Greek Catholic Cemeteries, Friday morning. They will be led, one hour apart, by the Jackson band playing the slow march of a dirge.

Caskets, each covered with an American flag, although most of their occupants were born in foreign lands, will be waiting at the graves. The bodies will not be taken to the churches.

Mrs. Bessie W. Gustafson of Oakland, secretary of the Board of Embalmers, who, with Mrs. O. H. Wells of Los Angeles, has done the work of preparing the bodies for burial, explained the difficulty of unsealing and resealing each casket. It was agreed by the coroner and District Attorney that it was sufficient that Mrs. Gustafson swear that identification of the bodies was correct.

The authorities are attempting to persuade relatives not to view their dead. A pathetic little group of two men and two women, however, were insistent. The men were Sam Fitzgerald and Charles Clayton, brothers, respectively, of Edward Fitzgerald and James Clayton, two of the victims. They said their dead brothers had been chums and fellow-workers for four years and desired that they be buried together. Edward Fitzgerald was a Catholic and James Clayton a Protestant.

RELIGION MATTERS NOT
"Religion does not matter," said Sam Fitzgerald. "They are bound for the same place."

Those who prepared the bodies for burial confirmed physicians' statements that death was virtually painless and came, perhaps, within two minutes after the wave of carbon-monoxide gas swept over the victims. Their faces were peaceful, as though in sleep.

Recovery of the bodies today was slower than had been expected. Five undertakers went down into the Argonaut mine and it was said that their work of embalming was delaying removal. At the top of the Kennedy shaft three other undertakers awaited the bodies and at the mill on the hill, four others, two of them women, performed the last offices.

GREETED BY HONOLULU Band Plays for Angelenos

HONOLULU (T. H.) Sept. 20.—
Old Hawaii—the Hawaii of palms,
coral beaches and dusky natives;
and new Hawaii—the Hawaii of American civilization with its hum of business—combined in the colorful welcome that Honolulu
today gave the big liner City of Los Angeles and its passengers,
the vessel docking to an accompaniment of welcoming whistles, band music and the whirl of airplane greetings flying above the ship.

Speeding down the island channels from Hilo and Kahului harbors, the fleet steamer arrived off port early this morning, and her appearance, signaling the opening of a new steamship service on the Pacific, brought from the metropolis of the Hawaiian archipelago a quick response.

GREETED BY PLANES
Up over the horizon, an hour
before the steamer entered Honolulu Harbor, after calling at Hilo and at the island of Maui, immense birds rose and winged seaward, meeting the white liner like the fabled albatross or the pilot-bird that is more familiar on the western ocean. They were sea and airplane sent by the Army and Navy establishments on Oahu to give first greeting to the Los Angeles excursionists.

They formed a double line and sped again and again past the oncoming liner and some of them,
passing over the decks of the steamer, dropped the Hawaiian
"Alo" or wreath—first token of the South Sea greeting.

SEE OUTRIGGER CANOES
Even while the giant jumbo-made birds were darting back and forth, the scene of modernity,
another sort of greeting was extended—strongly in contrast with the twentieth century salutes sent by radio and airplane. A fleet of Hawaiian outrigger canoes, long and low and slim and graceful,
came on from the harbor mouth,
cut across the ocean swells to the towering steamer. They were paddled by Hawaiian boys, most of whom wore the "malo" or breach-cloth of the old, native,
primitive days; sturdy youngsters whose bronzed skins, wet with spray, glistened as the sunlight struck them and as they bent to the paddles.

And while the excursionists from Los Angeles were still exclaiming over this, came a third greeting. A small flotilla of launches pulled up
each launch laden with waving, laughing, shouting, singing men
and youths from the city—the Honolulu Ad Club welcoming the city's guests. The ad clubbers circled the steamer and their launches escorted the liner as she entered the harbor mouth and slowly, majestically, drew up to her appointed berth at a large new concrete pier.

BAND PLAYS AT PIER
At the pier there was still another salutory. The Hawaiian Band, successor of the famous Royal Hawaiian Band, that flourished under the old island monarchy, was drawn up at the foot of the gangway and played lively airs as the steamer docked and the

WOMAN SAYS BIG UGLY WORD

Asserts Kipling Has Tendency to Prevaricate After Interview Denial

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20.— Mrs. Clare Sheridan let drop a short and ugly word with a vehemence that startled me today. She is the English sculptress-writer who recently quoted Rudyard Kipling as harshly disparaging America's share in the World War, and branding the United States for soulless love of money.
It was that interview which
after a wide publication, Kipling denied.

"I am glad I am not Kipling just this minute," Mrs.
Sheridan said to me. But she hastily caught herself with a smile. "No, don't say that. But everything I quoted Kipling as saying he said."

"Perhaps you might put it that he has a tendency toward prevarication," she said.

"He is unallied," she asserted and lapsed into musing silence. "I wonder if I have committed a 'Mrs. Asquith' and repeated a private conversation. No, because I told him I was writing for the New York World when I called on him. He spoke freely, without exacting a promise of confidence."

passengers began to troop ashore.
And as each passenger came down the plank, he or she was met by a pretty Honolulu girl, her or his neck encircled with a yellow lei.

It seemed today as if every Honolulu was ready to greet the City of Los Angeles with a
"Ask me—I live here," with his name upon it. That was to provide volunteer responses for any
and every member of the party.

From the dock the excursionists
went by motor to their hotels.
Most hastened to Waikiki Beach
and the Moana Hotel, located there, and some immediately plunged into the rolling surf and pleasant warm water along that famous strand. Others drove about the city.

GUESTS OF AD CLUB
At noon the entire party from the City of Los Angeles was the guest of the Ad Club. The lunch was given on the roof garden of the largest downtown hotel, the Alexander Young.

Here Gov. Wallace R. Farrington, one of the founders and first president of the club, extended to the Angelenos and to all who came on the steamer the official welcome of the Territory, responses being made by members of the party.

An invitation was extended to the visitors to go to the Hawaii Theater, completed ten days ago,
and the finest playhouse in the Pacific, the invitation being voiced by Joel C. Cohen, president of the Consolidated Amusement Company
and an Ad Club member.

RECEIVED BY GOVERNOR
For the afternoon, the party scattered. The Governor received them informally and they went through the interesting Territorial Executive Building where the Governor has his offices. It was once Iolani Palace, a royal building, and after the overthrow of the famous Queen Liliuokalani, here—not a rigorous immuring at that, though she was under strict former thorn room, now used biennially at the sessions of the Territorial Legislature.

Others of the visitors made an afternoon of it at Waikiki Beach, getting their initiation into surf bathing and the still more difficult and strenuous art of riding a sur-fboard. Many of Hawaii's crack swimmers were on hand to guide them in the water.

GUESTS AT BANQUET
Tonight the chief feature—and one of the big events of the visit—was the banquet given by the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, leading commercial organization of the Territory, to the men of the visiting party. This banquet was held in the Moana Hotel dining room. On the menu were Hawaii's choicest fruits and Hawaii's flowers bedecked the tables.

Leaders of Hawaii's commercial, professional, and social life were gathered to meet and welcome
formally the Los Angeles party,
and to wish the Los Angeles Steamship Company good luck in its venture.

Meanwhile the ladies of the Los Angeles party were entertained at a supper given at the Outrigger Canoes Club, also on Waikiki Beach and only 100 yards distant from the Moana Hotel. A committee of Honolulu women made them welcome.

State to Keep Final Message
of Mine Victim

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—The State Industrial Accident Commission has been instructed to cut away and preserve that portion of the stone in the mine drift on which William Fessell burned
with his lamp the only message left by the forty-seven miners who were victims of the tragedy at the Argonaut mine, Clarence E.
Jarvis, member of the State Board of Control, stated on his return
here from the scene of the tragedy said the stone would be kept by the State in memory of the victims.

The words written on the stone Jarvis said were: "Gas getting bad. 3 o'clock." Below the figure of the letter "O" Fessell is believed to have succumbed to the gas at that point.

Jarvis stated first reports that Fessell had left the note pinned
on his shirt were erroneous.

can people. Because of this, so far as Washington can judge and measure the effect on the public mind, the West has never looked in its admiration of courage. Westerners, even including many who voted the bonus bill and voted in the House today to pass it over the veto, frankly admitted in private that the President has actually strengthened himself immeasurably
in that part of the country.

So curious is the psychology of politics that there actually are many Republican Congressmen who consistently have voted for the bonus who are gratified that this is true. By exhibiting strength, courage and higher patriotism, the Republican President has increased the prestige of the Republican party. Even a Republican member of Congress who has opposed the President in this one case, it is argued, is better thereby.

Before the veto it was the testimony of political observers generally that the President was stronger with the people than the Congress of his own political faith.
Republicans were prepared to point with pride in their campaigns to Harding as the party leader, and to claim credit for supporting him.
The bonus bill, rich in considerations of political expediency, diverted them from this course for the moment, but they will be back.
Now that most of the primaries are over, there are none to offer themselves as better and truer supporters of the President. The party label means more today than it did
day before yesterday.

DOUBLE MURDER DEEP MYSTERY

Middlesex county tonight declared
he was convinced that the Rev. Mr.
Hall and Mrs. Mills were in the habit of meeting frequently near the isolated Phillips farm.

VEILED WOMAN IN CAR
This declaration followed a statement by Louis F. Ruck, a taxi driver, that about dusk on Sunday, August 27, he saw the Hall sedan standing empty on Easton avenue, near De Russy
Lane, convenient to the Phillips
place. Later on the same evening, Ruck said he passed the Hall car
and recognized the minister, driving, and a veiled woman companion in the car.

Following more than an hour's questioning at the office of Prosecutor Stricker, Willie Stevens returned to the home of his sister
where he resides. He was accompanied there by detectives. Willie's story of the visit of Mrs. Hall to the church in search of the children's rector at 2:30 a.m. Friday tallied with that of his sister, the prosecutor announced.

Stevens said he was awakened
by Mrs. Hall who was worried by Hall's failure to return home.
He said he dressed and accompanied her to the church, failed to get in and returned home. He could not explain why he was not seen by William Phillips, night
watchman at the New Jersey State College for Women, adjacent to the Hall home. Phillips saw a woman, unaccompanied, enter the Hall estate, supposedly Mrs. Hall, returning from the church.

The investigation also developed the fact that the double killing was with a .38 caliber pistol and not a .32 as had been suspected.

SWING'S SCHEME HAS GONE INTO DISCARD
NO TUBERCULAR HOSPITAL IS TO BE BUILT IN CALI-FORNIA

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Congressman Swing's scheme to get the Federal government to spend $1,000,000 to make him solid with the voters of his district by building a hospital for soldiers in or near San Diego has blown up completely. No Federal hospital for tubercular patients will be builded in Southern California, either in Swing's district or elsewhere, and all tubercular patients in California among the disabled soldiers will be treated at the new tubercular hospital at Livermore, near Palo Alto.

The veterans' bureau is also affording accommodation for tubercular cases at other points in the United States to care for many service men who heretofore have made every effort to be treated in California and this, together with the Livermore institution will care for all the cases of this character which otherwise would have to be treated in California.

One of the reasons for the abandonment of any intention of building the hospital in Southern California is the fact that Swing regarded it purely as a political plum and was seeking it for the benefit of his prestige and to make up for the hollowing of his record in Congress. The other reason was a lack of money for such an institution even with a free site such as the one suggested by Congressman Swing within the confines of his Congressional district.

All of the hospital programs outlined by the veterans' bureau have taken more money than at first estimated and it is probable that an additional sum for finishing the buildings and equipping them will have to be secured from Congress to complete the program to which the government is already committed. In the first appropriation for hospitals the program was made so broad that there was little money for completing the equipment and on the second large appropriation commitments have been used up practically all the money allotted and will take the best of management to have all the institutions ready for occupancy or under construction fitted out as going

Another extract from the Kaiser's Memoirs, publica-

our government was in se-

The Usher referred to is Ronald G. Usher, formerly a say? On what facts did he base his statement of that secret agreement? Are his assertions in contradiction to Efforts of Swing to have all of Southern California except his own district eliminated from any consideration, however, had an important bearing in the final decision not to have any new Federal tubercular hospital in Southern California.

TIERNAN TAKES STAND IN SUIT

Charged Paternity to Poulin,
He Declares

Asserts Accused Admitted
He Was Father

Face Drawn With Agony, He Hisses Sentences

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Sept. 20.—John P. Tiernan, husband, with a husband's primitive emotions, triumphed today over John P. Tiernan, professor of law, with a professor's academic theories.

Not as a legal expert but as the husband of a self-confessed unfaithful wife, Mr. Tiernan late this afternoon told the court how he had charged Harry Poulin with the paternity of his wife's third child, the day after Mrs. Tiernan had confessed to him and how Poulin had acknowledged his fatherhood, but begged for twenty-four hours in which to arrange a financial settlement.

With an agony of face and voice and body more convincing than his entire law library Prof. Tiernan hissed out the sentence describing that meeting in front of the post-office at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Jan. 2, 1922.

"I said 'Harry, Gus has told me everything, and he said 'Yes, it's all true, but let's be friends, John,' and I said 'No, we'll always be bitter enemies.'"

Mr. Tiernan gulped as he choked as he continued.

ASKED ABOUT SETTLEMENT

"Mr. Poulin wanted to know how much I would settle for and I said it would be somewhere in the neighborhood of $100, but Mrs. Tiernan would have to decide as she knew about the bills for the birth of the child."

"What did Mr. Poulin say then?" asked Prosecutor Floyd O. Johnson.

A: He said "Give me twenty-four hours to think it over," and he agreed to meet me at the same time and the same place the next day."

Q: Did you say anything about his recognizing the child?

A: Yes sir, I said in view of the situation and my position he would have to recognize the child.

Q: What did Mr. Poulin reply?

A: Only repeated that he would meet me the next day. I told him I would accept no excuses under any condition.

Q: Did you say anything more about not knowing the exact expenses?

A: I said about $200. But that was the most exciting day of my life.

Oh, I can't testify accurately to the conversation. Although the words were phrased with Prof. Tiernan's customary professional diction, the restrained frenzy of his voice came from a husband, not a disciple. Blackouts. Not legal strategy but human despair guided the witness.

DID NOT APPEAR

The next question jumped to the following afternoon, Jan. 10, 1922.

Q: Did Mr. Poulin meet you?

A: He did not.

The trilogy of words electrified the audience as they waited with expectancy more than if it had been the report of the pistol that the betrayed husband had not used that winter afternoon.

Q: Did you hear from him?

A: I did not.

Q: Did you receive any communication from him?

A: I believe meanwhile he engaged an attorney who called up my house and informed Mrs. Tiernan that—

But the three attorneys for the defense were on their feet and three simultaneous objections were hurled at Judge Chester Ducomb who is hearing the case.

Mr. Tiernan's answer was ruled out.

But the legal whirlygig which had been rotating all day usually in the direction suggested by the defense, had received one spur from the hands of the prosecution and its spin of emotions threw out of proportion all the technical aims made by the defense.

The spectators, fatigued by their own interest in the testimony, slumped down into exhaustion as the case proceeded.

The steps leading up to Mr. Tiernan's climactic disclosure had been gravid with meaning. They had also been planned with deftness by Prosecutor Johnson in order to avoid the legal objections with which the defense attorneys fought every syllable of the prosecution's progress.

WENT TO POULIN HOME

Referring to Jan. 2, 1922, the day on which Mrs. Tiernan yesterday testified she had confessed to her husband that Harry Poulin was the father of the then six-week-old child, Tiernan said:

Q: Did you go to the Poulin home that day?

A: Yes.

Q: Did you see Poulin?

A: I did not.

Q: Did you phone him the next day?

A: Yes, sir.

Q: Did you get him?

A: I did.

Q: What did you tell him?

A: I told him to meet me at the postoffice corner at 2 o'clock.

Q: Did he meet you?

A: He did.

Q: Tell the court what you told him.

And Prof. Tiernan told the court, told his wife, told the Poulins, the gallery. He related his own soul.

Almost as dramatic as the story of Poulin's admission of the paternity of Mrs. Tiernan's child was Prof. Tiernan's testimony regarding the time he informed Harry Poulin that "he was a father."

It was Nov. 29, 1921, the day after the birth of the child that Mr. Tiernan was subsequently to name William John, after himself and his favorite brother.

HUNG HEAD, WALKED AWAY

"I was just going to board a street car when I met Mr. Poulin going to lunch. I called to him: 'We have a baby.' He said, excitedly, 'Is it a boy or a girl?' I said, 'It's a boy.' He hung his head and walked away. He made no remarks."

Across the room Harry Poulin hung his head and made remarks to his attorneys.

Q: Didn't he congratulate you?

A: No, he did not.

Earlier in the afternoon Prof. Tiernan recounted the series of little things, unnoticed at the time of their happening, which with cumulative value are now related to emphasize the "friendly relations" between Mrs. Tiernan and Harry Poulin. But the professor, intent on academic duties and the preparation of legal treatises, did not read the handwriting that primitive passion was writing on the wall.

He realized that his wife danced with Harry Poulin four times to every time she danced with her husband. But with pathetic naïveté: "I always had the first dance with her."

Tiernan had not altogether blotted from memory the recollection of a bathing party at Barron Lake in August, 1921.

He received his invitation "indirectly" as a triple play from Mr. Poulin to Mrs. Tiernan to himself.

The party left at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, but he had official business to transact at the university. He ate supper at home and hurried out to the lake just in time to find Harry Poulin acting as chef, assisted by the professor's wife.

KISSED ALL THE LADIES

And at the conclusion of the meal, said Mr. Tiernan, "Mr. Poulin walked around the table and kissed all the ladies."

Q: Every one present, including Mrs. Tiernan?

A: Yes, sir.

Q: How did you return?

A: Mrs. Tiernan and Mr. Poulin occupied the rear seat of the car.

Q: What did you occupy?

A: One of the adjustable chairs.

The morning session ended in an invective launched by the attorneys for the defense against Prosecutor Johnson, who listened to their denunciations with a view of trying to get the court to admit the testimony of Prof. Tiernan regarding his intimate relations with his wife.

But when the defense made use of the opportunity to imply that Johnson had objected to trying the case before Judge Ducomb, the prosecutor was unable to restrain himself. The judge finally adjourned court, after admonishing the attorneys to "settle it in the alley, not in the courtroom."

When the hearing continued this afternoon Judge Ducomb ruled that a husband is not competent in a paternity suit, to testify regarding his marital relations with his wife.

WOMAN OBJECTED TO ORGAN; SMASHES IT

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
KENDRICK (Ky.) Sept. 20.—Belief that the presence of an organ in the Christian Church at Bordley, Ky., was a sacrilege led Mrs. C. P. Baldwin, wife of a wealthy farmer, to enter the church alone with an axe today, chop the costly instrument to bits and then drag the pieces outside and burn them.

Mrs. Baldwin and her followers for months had opposed the installation of the organ, believing song to be the only method to praise God with music. On a vote those in favor of the organ won by a small majority. The instrument was used for the first time Sunday when Mrs. Baldwin refused to attend services.

No court action has been taken by members favoring the organ.

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—The German Kaiser's decision to remarry is a political event of importance. It has lost him the last remnants of personal popularity in Germany and given him a black eye with the staunchest legitimists. The blindest royalists say that William Hohenzollern "never can come back."

More particularly has the former Kaiser fallen from grace in the estimation of German women, who are even more ardent monarchists than the male reactionaries, and he has also lost standing among the bulk of the monarchist-minded youth of Germany. These votaries of Kaiserism feel that his approval of matrimony to the memory of the dead Kaiserin, but untimely to their ideal of a true Kaiser.

The reactionary press betrays considerable embarrassment and tries to let the exiled monarch down easy by telling its readers that while the first feeling of resentment is quite natural, still his loneliness and temperament are extenuating circumstances.

Among the less "hard boiled" reactionaries there is no grudging the former Kaiser a second wife. They feel that his approval of matrimony is a political factor that it definitely and finally eliminates him as a political factor.

GARBAGE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Two motor truck loads of human bones, the remains of several hundred of New York's early settlers were unceremoniously dumped into the ocean yesterday from a city rubbish scow.

Workmen employed by a construction company excavating a cellar dug up an ancient churchyard. Old brownstone tombstones with names and dates, the largest of which was 1820, were unearthed.

In one corner of the plot when a brick vault was broken open, the skulls and other bones. It was evident that there had been a reinterment on the original burial ground some sixty years ago, when a public school was erected on the spot.

The foreman of the construction job called up police headquarters and asked what to do with the human remains.

"Oh throw 'em down on the dump," he was instructed, he says. So a gang of Italian workmen with shovels loaded the bones of "many of Manhattan's pioneer citizens nonchalantly into two big motor trucks and the driver dumped them on a scow in the river.

From records it was found that the old graveyard was undoubtedly connected with two prominent Manhattan churches of the early nineteenth century. Custom dictated in those days that every church should have a churchyard in which to inter the bodies of the dead.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)
OMAHA (Ark.) Sept. 20.—Murder charges have been filed against Dave Scott, aged 38, and James Scott, aged 32, brothers, in connection with a gun fight Sunday on a country road about eight miles from here in which two youths were killed, a girl probably fatally wounded and Dave Scott shot in the abdomen.

Filing of the murder charges was based on the findings of a coroner's jury which investigated the tragedy. James Scott denied that he had any part in the shooting.

Dave Scott, who is in a serious condition, has declined to make a statement, authorities say. He is under guard.

It developed at the inquest that the probable cause of the shooting was a quarrel over the Scott boys' sister, who was in the company of Ed Badley, one of the two youths shot and killed.

Urging Action

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—An attempt to reopen the Dover Blair row was started today by A. D. Sumner, formerly deputy commissioner of internal revenue, in an open letter to Representative Sweet of Iowa, urging an investigation of alleged conditions in the Internal Revenue Bureau. At the same time copies of an affidavit by W. J. Fahy, formerly a clerk in the bureau, recently suspended by David H. Blair, collector of internal revenue, were sent to all members of Congress.

In his affidavit, Mr. Fahy alleges that he was suspended because of his knowledge of the adjustment of the income tax returns of Mrs. Blair and the estate of James W. Cannon of North Carolina, father-in-law of Mr. Blair. He charges members of the intelligence unit of the bureau with attempting to intimidate him by threats when Mr. Blair authorized an investigation of some stolen papers.

MELLON KILN

Secretary Mellon refused to comment on the charges. It was said at his office that the matter had been brought to his attention. Mr. Mellon was understood to regard the charges of irregularity concerning the Blair-Cannon income tax returns as groundless and that he was prepared to make a statement to Congress if necessary. Officials of the bureau pointed out a provision in the Revenue Act of 1921 making it a criminal offense, punishable by a heavy fine and imprisonment for employees of the bureau to divulge any particulars concerning income tax matters.

Representative Sweet said he had received Mr. Sumner's letter, but he was not prepared to say what action he would take in the matter.

CHARGES HUGE FRAUD

Charges that "a gigantic scheme of fraud" was being conducted through the Internal Revenue Bureau were made by Mr. Sumner in his letter to Representative Sweet. He said he was sure President Harding did not realize the situation, "for he inherited this program of deceit and falsification from another administration."

Mr. Sumner, who was appointed by Elmer Dyer, formerly Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, was dismissed from office several months ago, following charges by Mr. Blair that official government papers had been removed from the bureau's files. Mr. Sumner, who was discharged for his alleged assistance in the removal of the papers and, subsequently, employed in the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice, was mentioned by Mr. Fahy in his affidavit.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—"I want a machine to take me to Winnipeg at once on urgent business," was the request which officials of the Croydon Airports had today. The prospective passenger said that he was all right with it, but that he was willing to pay any amount up to $30. He withdrew his request for transportation when informed that the running cost of such a trip, if possible to make, would be $3000.

CUMMINGS' WRATH IS

TO VOTE FOR NEWBERRY
RY'S UNSEATING

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

HARTFORD (Conn.) Sept. 20.—Pledging of every candidate for the United States Senate to vote for the expulsiion of Senator Newberry of Michigan was urged by Homer S. Cummings, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in an address tonight at the opening session of the Connecticut Democratic State convention.

Mr. Cummings criticized the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill as "practical suicide of the industrial policy of 1921-22" when several million American working men were thrown out of work and a staggering blow was struck at American prosperity.

He attacked President Harding for sending "the impossible Rully bill" to Congress, a reprieve of the famous Payne-Aldrich bill, asserting that it would send prices up and "make international trade well-nigh impossible."

The Republican policy of isolation, he declared, was directly responsible for the industrial panic of 1921-22 when several million American working men were thrown out of work and a staggering blow was struck at American prosperity.

The naming of Atty. - Gen. Daugherty also came in for criticism, along with "inexcusable raid upon the civil service employment in the Postoffice and Treasury departments."

The Republican Congress, he continued, "is literally a Congress without a friend, even among its own members."

He quoted Secretary Weeks as saying that "the relative branch of our government probably never has been at a lower ebb than at the present time."

Following is Mr. Lloyd George's letter:

"While trying to snatch a short holiday, I have been reading your autobiography, which you so kindly sent me. I have found it most fascinating. The early chapters describing your upbringing in the hard school of the world and framing the alphabet of life from the letters of his own experience, will keep bright his faith in his fellow-men and still cherishes the ideals inspired by a Welsh hero."

"I was also greatly attracted by the conception and fulfillment of the Mooseheart dream, and if I go to America I should very much like to be shown over the institution."

"Cordell Gerau Atchew Chwi a Im Holi-Cydwylwyr. Yn-Yr Amerig."

"Sincerely yours,"

Now beautify teeth in this way
Millions of them—the world over

Careful people, well advised, now use a new teeth-cleaning method—millions of them in every clime, and largely by dental advice.

Beautiful teeth you see everywhere show the results of this method.

It is something you should know. Learn what it means to you and yours. Make this free ten-day test.

Combats the dingy film

It is film that makes teeth dingy—that vicious film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Food stains discolor it, then it forms thin cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film.

The ordinary tooth paste does not and film. So most teeth, in the old days, were more or less discolored.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief causes of pyorrhea.

Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film. Under old methods, they were constantly increasing. The most careful people rarely escaped.

Two combatants now

Dental science, after long research, has found two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it. Able authorities have amply proved their efficiency. Now leading dentists the world over are urging their daily use.

A new tooth paste has been created, based on modern research. It brings five effects now considered essential. It avoids several old mistakes.

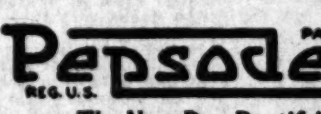

This tooth paste is called Pepsodent. And these two great film combatants are embodied in it.

Why Men's Teeth

Glisten everywhere today

The film on teeth of men who smoke becomes especially discolored. But note how men's teeth glisten nowadays—men who remove the film. Now how men and women, when they smile, are showing pretty teeth. Those are Pepsodent effects, now attained by millions, largely through dental advice. They do not come by scouring teeth in any harmful way, but by scientific film removal.

BISHOPS ARGUE OVER LITURGY

Debate Grows Heated When Title is Discussed

Chairman Stops Argument
and Reads Prayers

Clergymen Express Fear of Disruption

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 20.—A storm over the proposed new title of the communion service in the prayer book of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States broke late today in the House of Deputies in general convention at the report of the House of Bishops approving the new title selected by the commission on prayer book revisions was taken up.

So high was the feeling of some of the speakers that the Rev. Dr.
Alexander Mann of Boston, chairman of the house, stopped the debate and read prayers invoking a spirit of calm.

The proposed new title of the communion service was "The Divine Liturgy." Being the Order for the Lord's Supper, or Holy Eucharist. Commonly called the Holy Communion.

The deputies voted against con-curring in the action of the bishops in approving the report.
The matter will now be referred to a conference committee. The fight was opened by Henry Hanley Hug of Newcastle, Del., who declared the words "divine liturgy"
were medieval. He said there were so many alternative titles that confusion would be caused.

"Some will be going to the Divine Liturgy, some to the Lord's Supper, some to the Holy Eucharist and some to the Holy Communion,"
he said.

WARNS OF SPLIT
Rowell Page of Beaver Dam, Va., moved that the title be changed to "The Lord's Supper" or the "Holy Communion." He declared there was great opposition to the proposed change.

"It is a question to split breath-ers upon," he asserted. "The Crisis of 'no' came from the house."

"Oh, you say 'no.' I say 'yes'!"
he retorted. "You speak of union
with the Catholic Church and you speak of church unity, but by just such a report as this you get away from the Holy Communion and you do not get any nearer to the Church of Rome."

Q. P. Henry of Des Moines, Iowa, made an impassioned plea against the change.

If we change the name of the order we will split this church
from top to bottom," he declared.
There were cries of "no."

It was at this point that the chairman interrupted the debate and cautioned the house against applause or audible expressions of feeling.

Assertion that people nowadays
do not believe the statements in the prayer book was made in six days and that prohibitions against coasting one's "neighbor's ox or ass" would be more effective if changed to "his automobile" were made in the House of Deputies in a debate on acceptance of a plan to print part of the ten commandments in blackface type and the rest in different type to be read at the discretion of clergymen. Rev.
F. M. Kirkus of Wilmington, Del., made the effect of the commandment against labor by son, daughter, man servant and maid servant on Sunday was lost when everyone knew that there was some one at home preparing dinner.

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—
The case of Joseph Stecklein, Albert O.
Trautner and Thomas Brewer, striking shopmen of the Santa Fe Railway, at Needles, who are charged with violation of the restraining order issued by the local Federal court, on July 13, last, will go to the jury in Judge Bledsoe's court this morning.

They are charged with making a murderous attack on Thomas F.
Timlin, aged 45, on the morning of July 27, last, on the streets of Needles.

The case was taken up by the testimony of the defendants. All three admitted that they had accused Timlin as he came out of a bank, but denied that they were the aggressors. They insisted that he had first attacked them, and that they acted in self-defense.

The argument was made by Hiram C.
Todd, special assistant to Atty-
Gen. Cummings, who said that the acts of the accused men were cared for by Hugh L. Dickson.

Robert J. Yokah, the last witness called by the government,
who is cashier of the M. Bank at Needles, testified that he saw the defendants loitering near the bank. As Timlin came out of the door, they closed in on him, according to Yokah, and Trautner engaged him in conversation. He saw Trautner strike Timlin, as he did so a revolver dropped out of Trautner's pocket. Timlin was knocked to the ground by Trautner, with Brewer and Stecklein standing over him as he tried to get up according to the witness who said he also heard Trau-tner curse Timlin.

MERELY WARNED MAN
Thomas Brewer, the first of the
defendants to testify, said the accused by the government, Trau-
tner, Stecklein and himself, were
in the bank when Timlin came
out. He said that he was a non-union man, and remained on his
job in the shop, to go about the streets. Brewer placed the blame
on the advice, and struck him,
later on attacking Stecklein and Trautner. He placed the blame
on the responsibility for the fight on Timlin.

MERELY WARNED MAN
Thomas Brewer, the first of the
defendants to testify, said the accused by the government, Trau-
tner, Stecklein and himself, were
in the bank when Timlin came
out. He said that he was a non-
job in the shop, to go about the streets. Brewer placed the blame
on the advice, and struck him,
later on attacking Stecklein and
on the responsibility for the fight on Timlin.

Cross-examination by Judge Bledsoe of the defendants was searching. He brought out the evidence that it was not safe for nonunion men to appear on the streets of Needles, and that the striking order issued by the court was discussed by the strikers. He also brought out the evidence that the defendants were armed on the day of the fight, and that Timlin was not armed.

JUDGE EXAMINES
When Stecklein offered his alibi,
the court assumed the case against the other two defendants in front of the motion picture theater. Timlin is in the bank alone. The trio then moved down the street and watched for the old man, the object being, the witness said, to protect him in his trips out of the property of the bank. They were armed, and they were merely looking after the well-being of Timlin, who was unarmed, and they feared he might be attacked, according to the witness.

When Trautner had testified how he attempted to defend Timlin
from possible injury and death,
he had struck at him until Timlin
had been knocked down, the court took him in hand. Trautner admitted that there was bitter feeling between the strikers and loyal workers in Needles; that it was necessary for nonunion men to be cared for by deputy United States marshals. He also admitted that guarding the loyal workers was calculated to molest them to get out of town so that the strike might succeed. After Timlin had struck the witness, and almost knocked him down, he merely gave him a little love-tap once, as a reminder, he told the court.

The Federal grand jury charged with the investigation of a possible conspiracy among striking members of the various shopmen represented on the three transcontental railways entering the city to impede and harass the free movement of trains carrying interstate commerce, or prevent the transportation of the mails, shifted their meeting in the post office, and convened yesterday afternoon, at eleven o'clock, as originally announced. U. S. Dist. Atty.
Burke was in charge of the probable Special Assistant Atty.-Gen. Todd being engaged in Judge Bledsoe's courtroom.

Several witnesses from Needles were present, and the details of the strike along the lines indicated were given to the jury. Today the agents of the Department of Justice, who made a survey of the conditions at Needles, will be among the witnesses. The strike also was witnessed from Bakersfield, Fresno and Mojave.

Parisian Editor Says American Tariff Mistake

(BY CABLE-REUTERS DISPATCH.)
PARIS, Sept. 20.—The Temps, criticizing the American tariff bill, declares the consequences of its enactment will be far from favorable in some respects even for the United States.

But putting this aside, it points out "that talk much in America
about the economic reconstruction of the world, and of necessary recovery in international exchanges.
They accuse the reparations of clogging this reconstruction and recovery. They make a mistake.
Real obstacles are protectionist measures of the kind the new tariff bill contains, and not the legiti-mate demands of France."

As for the effect upon France,
it is recalled that the French imported goods worth $500,000,000
last year, adding "how it is evident that France, by this scale, will be able to sell French goods to America or we will encounter difficulties in paying for our importations."

"On the other hand, our exports destined for the United States have exceeded in the past year $200,000,000 and this scale
will be able to sell French goods to America or we will encounter difficulties in paying for our importations."

SAN DIEGO COUNTY
CHARTER NULLIFIED
NEW FREEHOLDERS BOARD MUST MEET AND DRAFT INSTRUMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—
The recently prepared charter of the county of San Diego was nullified by the State Supreme Court today when it declined to issue a writ of mandate to compel the Board of Supervisors to publish the instrument. The board had asked the court to nullify the charter of the County Board of Freeholders, who had been elected to draw up the charter.

The supervisors based their action on the allegation that the freeholders were one day late in filing the charter with the court.
The charter was filed on the 13th
of the month, but the court held that the filing had been delayed by the freeholders petitioned for the demanding that the supervisors be compelled to set a date for a new Board of Freeholders and draw up a new charter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—
A fingerprint identification system
for post-office employees for check-

today in a resolution adopted by the National Postmasters' Associa-

The resolution said that such a system would be welcomed as a check on crime in the post office.

Another resolution adopted held that recent national postoffice deficits were caused by low parcel post rates, and asked that such be revised upward. Further resolutions asked that a system of protections for postmasters be evolved,
that they be named without speedily how long they shall serve and that they be advanced on the basis of ability. The convention ended

DECISION NEAR ON INJUNCTION

Strike Conspiracy Against

Story of Violence "Filthiest Court Record"

Unions' Attorney Says Roads
Abandoned Scale

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—The government's suit for a nation-wide injunction against the striking railroad shop crafts will be decided by tomorrow night, a few hours before the temporary restraining order now in force expires.

This became evident today when the defense closed its case and opening arguments were begun.
Blackburn E. Bessing, as its counsel, followed by Donald R.
Richberg, attorney for R. M. Jewell and John Scott, the strike leaders, Mr. Richberg will complete his argument tomorrow, to be followed by his associate counsel, Frank Mulholland of Toledo, while Asst. Atty.-Gen. McLaughlin will close for the United States.

The government has not quite completed the draft of the injunction which it will ask Judge James H. Wilkerson to sign, but there are indications that some of the drastic clauses of the restrain-ing order will be modified by the sheer power of its attack, in itself
a conspiracy against interstate commerce. Mr. Bessing contended in an opening statement as representative of Atty.-Gen. Daugherty, the act of 400,000 men at 4000 points quitting work in union is a menace against the movement of mail and of interstate shipments which the government may rightly seek to curb, he pleaded.

VIOLENCE POINTED OUT
Of the story of violence and intimidation read in court in more than 400 government affidavits, Mr.
Bessing said it constituted "the filthiest record that ever stained a court."

The eighty-one Federal injunction orders, supporting the government's case, introduced yesterday by the defense show the entire weight of the judicial department of the government was called to suppress them, he said.

Mr. Judge Wilkerson issued the nation-wide restraining order September 1. Externals continued, there has been a remarkable increase in the number of mail cars
and trains, indicating that the order was effective and proving still further, he added, that the strike was directed from one head.

He denied there had been any attempt on the part of the Atty-
Gen.'s office to destroy the unions.

SAYS SCALE DEREGULATED
In his opening statement for the defense, started just before court adjourned, Mr. Richberg compared the refusal of the shopmen to work at a certain wage scale and the refusal of the railroad which farmed out their shop work to give work at wage scales fixed by the Railroad Labor Board.

I am quite unable to grasp the distinction, between the interference with interstate commerce by
the refusal to employees to work
at a certain wage and the interference with interstate commerce by
the refusal of the employers to pay certain wages," Mr. Richberg said.

WAR TALK FAILS TO MAKE GOOD

Turkish Complications Have No Effect on Rate of Exchange

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Probably the judgment of the markets regarding the Turkish complication was best expressed today by the recovery in foreign exchange rates and by the rise of one to two points in French government bonds on the Paris Bourse and of a point in the French 7½ per cent at New York. Sterling at today's highest sold above any rate quoted in the last ten days and 3½ cents above the low rate of last week, while francs were back nearly to last week's figure. All this no doubt reflects partly actual relief, but it probably measures much more closely the repurchase of speculative sales by speculators for the decline, who had proceeded on the theory that the financial public would be frightened and had discovered that it was not.

On the stock exchange there was considerably more irregularity than the day before, railway shares moved uncertainly and in the end there were declines as well as advances among the industrials. This would seem to mean that although no great concern was manifested regarding the Near Eastern war scare, the attitude of hesitancy which characterized last week's market was resumed. Usually when such a mood prevails, some new development of a concrete character is necessary to change it. The veto of the hypocritical and mischievous soldiers' bonus bill hardly provided such a stimulus. It had been fully expected, although the jubilant majority in the House to override the veto had also been recognized as on the cards, the Senate's vote was naturally awaited to close the episode.

The news from the Near East covering operations in the Greek-Turkish theater of war, which was said to have been responsible for much of the selling which appeared in the stock market Monday, causing a sharp decline in security prices on that day, received little attention yesterday when prices started to recover and today the dispatches were virtually ignored.

BY CHAPIN HALL

The fruit pack on the Pacific Coast this year will exceed that of 1919 which was the largest ever known. Prices, according to George W. Cobb, in charge of the American Can Company's sales, will be about the same as last year, despite the heavy crops.

Sugar, labor and lumber for packing cases are all higher than a year ago. Cans are cheaper, because of economies in manufacture, and cheaper sheet steel. Tin cans are 2½ per cent sheet steel and only 1½ per cent tin.

The Pacific Coast sets prices for most canned fruits, fish and some vegetables. It leads in the production and packing of cherries and blackberries. Michigan is the leader in gooseberries and strawberries and second to New York in raspberries. There was a large pack of these early fruits this year, and all have been sold to jobbers and retailers at better prices than in 1921.

The crop of late fruits has been very abundant. It leads in the production of late fruits, and the market, so far as canners are concerned, because of it, is asserted, consumers' preferences for Pacific Coast varieties.

SEEK OUR GOODS

The growing disposition of the non-manufacturing world to exchange its raw material for American manufactures is apparent, says the "Trade Record," The National City Bank of New York, by a close study of the import and export figures of the fiscal year just ended. While the value figures often fall below those of recent years, the quantities of individual articles show in many cases large percentages of gain, even in the "lean" international trade year 1922 when compared with the year immediately preceding. Though the strike troubles of the past few weeks may have checked the disposition to lay in stocks of manufacturing material, the figures of the full fiscal year ending June 3, 1922 make it quite apparent that the quantity of raw material being brought into the country is increasing and that the countries sending them are willing to accept our manufactures in exchange.

GOOD FOR BUSINESS

Southern California financial and business interests look with considerable equanimity upon the probable early adjournment of Congress, and credit a free breathing throughout the commercial world when this comes to pass.

AFTER THE FRAYS

Market Prospects if War Fuse is Fanned to Flame; No Ultimate Gain in Waste

BY RICHARD SPILLANE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

(Copyright, 1922, Public Ledger)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—What are the prospects of the market, if the trouble in the Near East develops into a war between the Turkish Nationalists and the Russian Bolsheviks on the one hand and Great Britain, Greece and possibly Italy and some other European powers on the other?

On Monday wheat advanced violently in the Chicago market and cotton declined sharply in the New York, New Orleans and Liverpool exchanges on the threat of the complications bringing on another war for British governmental account. The British have had a lot of experience in this field and

WHAT IS THE AVERAGE BOND SALE?

A few years ago bond buying was considered the privilege of the wealthy. The small investor was compelled to speculate or be content with savings bank interest. Then the average bond sale was $25,000.

Today—due to the fact that we give the same encouragement and service to the small investor that the large investor formerly received, our average sale to individuals, as taken from our sales records, is $2,120.

The average sale to individuals and banks combined, is $4,191.

UNION BANK & TRUST CO. OF LOS ANGELES, Trustee

EXEMPT FROM PERSONAL PROPERTY TAXES IN CALIFORNIA

Interest paid without deduction for Normal Federal Income Tax, in so far as may be lawful, not exceeding 2%

Unconditionally guaranteed both as to principal and interest by Mr. Wm. G. Henshaw until net earnings for one year applicable to interest charges shall have been at least one and one-half times the interest charges on these bonds.

Reference is hereby made to a letter given us by Mr. John Treaner, Vice-President of San Diego County Water Company, which we summarize as follows:

Company's property consists of approximately 46,000 acres of agricultural lands in San Diego County; also dam sites, reservoir sites and water rights, the development of which is required to meet the existing demand for water for irrigation and domestic purposes.

Agricultural lands include Warner's Ranch, which contains 38,400 acres of exclusive reservoir site. Bernardo Ranch which contains 8004 acres; and other agricultural lands of about 2500 acres. Warner's Ranch comprises the main portion of the upper San Luis Rey River Valley, about 36 miles from the coast, and contains large areas of almost level, sub-irrigated land surrounding a central tract of mesa land. Farming operations have demonstrated suitability of Warner's Ranch for cultivation of deciduous fruits, English walnuts, sugar beets and grains. Bernardo Ranch is located 3½ miles south of Escondido and is similar in character to remaining portions of the Escondido Valley which are already large producers of citrus and deciduous fruits.

Water properties include all necessary riparian rights and reservoir sites, comprising a total area of about 9400 acres on the San Luis Rey and Santa Ysaabel Rivers. Henshaw Dam, now under construction, will be completed on or about January 1, 1923, and will impound 164,000 acre-feet of water in Henshaw Reservoir. Ultimately this dam will be raised to impound 200,000 acre-feet of water furnishing a safe yield for irrigating purposes of about 28,000 acre-feet per annum.

Demand for water is immediate in the Escondido Valley, a general farming district of about 12,000 acres lying below Henshaw Reservoir. This territory is partially served by the Escondido Municipal Water Company which has reached the limit of practicable development and which has agreed to contract for 2500 acre-feet per annum upon completion of Henshaw Reservoir. In addition to the above lands, there are 68,000 acres of first-class lands irrigable from Henshaw Reservoir which is vastly greater than can ever be supplied from any source and applications have been made for water service exceeding capacity of Henshaw Reservoir.

Earnings from water sales will commence with the irrigating season of 1923 until which time income is limited to revenues derived principally from land rentals which are in excess of $50,000 per annum. Based upon established facts, net revenue available for interest for the year ending December 31, 1925, is conservatively estimated at $350,000. The sale of only one-fourth of the net safe yield of Henshaw Reservoir, together with land rentals, is sufficient to pay fixed charges upon present issue of bonds.

These bonds, in opinion of counsel, will be secured by an absolute first mortgage on all properties now owned or hereafter acquired, including agricultural lands and improvements, water rights, dam and reservoir sites, the total conservative value of which as independently appraised, is $5,211,994.

Titles and legal proceedings incident to the issuance of these bonds will be subject to the approving opinion of Messrs. Chickering and Gregory, Attorneys, San Francisco

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. — Pool operations in special stocks, several of which were pushing up to new high records for the year, provided the only interesting feature in today's relatively quiet stock market session. Prices in which were mainly upward. Short covering accelerated the advance in early dealings, but some unsettling was noted toward the close on receipt of Washington dispatches that the House had overridden the President's veto on the bonus bill and the calling of loans and rise in money rates.

Special demonstrations were staged in Austin Nichols, Beech-nut Packing, Mallinckrodt, White Eagle Oil, Tidewater Oil, Consolidated Cigar, National Cigar and Suit, preferred, Federal Mining and Smelting and American Zinc preferred, all of which established peak prices, the net gain ranging from small fractions to more than 3 points. Bull operations in some of these issues were aided by the limited floating supply.

Public utilities and oils were the most popular of the standard shares, gains of a point or more being recorded by Consolidated Gas, Pacific Gas, Western Union, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Tidewater Oil. Mexican Seaboard issues, however, were reactionary.

No definite movement took place in the rail group, price changes in which were largely nominal. Norfolk and Western, Canadian Pacific, Erie first preferred and Chicago and Northwestern preferred were relatively heavy. Steel shares also showed little change.

U. S. Steel common and Republic declining fractionally, while Bethlehem, Bethlehem and Gulf States moved to higher ground.

Several weak spots were uncovered by the bear faction in the final dealings, notably British Empire Steel second preferred, Marine preferred and U. S. Rubber common and preferred, the losses ranging from 3 to nearly 4 1/2 points.

Copper shares were again active, securities of South American companies registering the largest gains because of their lower production costs. Chile Copper was pushed up over a point and fractional gains were made by several domestic shares.

Total sales approximated 900,000 shares. Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent and then hardened to 5, where it held until closing. Rates for time money also were inclined to firmness. This was attributed to the shifting of funds in connection with recent government operations and income tax payments.

Foreign exchange rates continued their upward course, despite the usual seasonal heavy offerings of grain and cotton bills against export shipments, which were not as large, however, as on a number of other days in the last three weeks. Demand sterling made a good response to the optimistic reports concerning the meeting between Lord Curzon and Premier Poincare on the Near East situation, demand bills being quoted at 4.42 and 3-16, or more than a cent above yesterday's figure.

Revise Your Investments

In times like the present, every investor will find it both wise and profitable to make a careful survey of his bond holdings.

There are many issues which are now around their "call" price. It is therefore not unlikely that this call privilege will soon be exercised.

There are a few other bonds which, in view of their sound security and in comparison with other bonds of their class, seem to be underpriced.

Accordingly, it is now advisable to trade securities which are approaching their maximum prices for others whose possibility of appreciation is less limited.

We shall be glad to go over your list of holdings and note what changes, if any, may now be made to your advantage.

Hamilton Well No. 4 in the Oil Sand!

We Have Struck the Pay!

Drilling has stopped—casing is being set! How much oil is the only question now. You know Santa Fe Springs production—3000—4000—5000 barrels per day. Your guess is as good as anyone's on what production will be.

This Should Be One of the Big Wells at Santa Fe Springs

Careful painstaking drilling by our experienced crew under Jack McKeon's personal direction, has brought us the biggest hole of its depth ever drilled—certainly the biggest at the Springs. Clear down to the oil sand goes the 8 1/4-inch casing! And McKeon is going on into the oil sand with this 8 1/4-inch line—think what that means. It's the famous Meyers sand which produces a high gravity (36 to 39) oil.

Everything Points to a Duplicate of Standard Well No. 2 at Santa Fe Springs

Careful checking of the log of the two wells shows Hamilton Well No. 4 to be almost identical to Standard Well No. 2, recently completed. That well is now producing a high gravity oil, commanding the top price. Think of the profits that will come from the sale of this oil. The opportunity is yours now to purchase an interest in Hamilton No. 4, in which we know we have oil.

WALL STREET SHOCK PROOF

Talk of Holy War Leaves Financiers Cold

Business in United States on an Even Keel

Latest Bank Call Fails to Show Much Change

BY C. B. EVANS
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Nervously susceptible people should be their guard against shock just at this time. Occasionally one hears a whisper of holy war and even in newspaper dispatches that whisper gets printed from time to time, or you can read it between the lines if you get enough lines and work hard enough on them. These many generations, centuries indeed, a shiver has run over occidental and oriental backs in response to a menace of some such calamity or in remembrance of actual performance.

But when you hear a suspicious sound in the shed chamber after reading the war dispatches or when a closed door refuses to open or to close, fall back on natural causes. It is in the nature of the thing that the world is not so much a place of religious wars as it is a place of religious wars. The fog of the Orient are full of religious hate, but the fog of the West is a fog of the world of the world that the danger of a wave of Mohammedanism is not so much a danger as it is a danger of a wave of Mohammedanism. The danger along the Black and Aegean Seas other than what is directly in the open is the Bolshevik, but even he is a little lame warwise just now.

WALL STREET CALM

Wall street is a blessing to us under present uncertain conditions simply because there is no more expression on its face than there was when the market was in the hands of the Greeks in Asia Minor. The financier interprets the situation as meaning no more things than can have any serious effect on a country far off between the oceans, at least in the immediate future. The example of that interest has been potent for good. Even London got excited, as indeed New York would have done if our Atlantic Fleet had been sent in the name of terror into goodness large numbers of people at a great distance from home.

As a consequence of Wall street's placidity, affairs in this country have gone along just as ever. In this city there is no selling of stocks on account of disturbances in the East, though Kemal has doubtless shed a light from on a big but tender plant that has been expected to yield rich fruit to the stocks waiting under its ample branches. The fruit was not ripe anyhow and it may as well hang a while yet. The action of the market has been different from what it has been again and again since 1922 came in.

There is a little disappointment on the part of people who are fond of the shock that calamitous news creates. Many there are who solemnly disapprove of a dog fight, but still like to watch the dogs in the performance if they have no neighbors watching them in their unworthy joy.

BUSINESS IS BRAVE

No class of business shows any change. Even the timid bond buyer, who analyzes down to the last element and with whom an eighth of a big thing, is just as brave as ever. On the Chicago Board of Trade there has been a moderate demonstration to prove that wheat ought to be higher because there is war in Europe, and war in Europe has always been a signal for higher prices on breadstuffs. But this time the lift is probably even less than was called for by the merits of the situation, irrespective of what happens or is to happen along that raging canal called the Dardanelles.

Bank statistics fail to change materially, the effect of crop moving not yet being visible to any considerable extent. As between June 30 and September 15, deposits in this city gained $18,000,000, but that is a bagatelle in an aggregate around $2,000,000,000, as is a gain of $2,000,000,000 in loans and discounts, and a decrease of $2,000,000,000 in cash resources. A shrinkage of $4,810,000 in savings deposits attracts attention, although it is less than 1 per cent of the aggregate.

There is no chance whatever to talk about the poverty of the laboring classes. Any decrease in savings in these days is probably attributable to withdrawal for investment in securities or to pay vacation expenses.

Blessed is the American with plenty to do and plenty to eat and no Turk lying around in his vicinity ready to massacre or burn, or even to plot a holy war.

the upward course of wheat and meat. Practically all the principal fiber growths come into large use in war. Cotton ranks first among them in this regard. To clothe an army requires a great amount of cotton. Into nearly all explosives enters to more or less degree. Some one familiar with the facts figured it out that a shot from a fifteen-inch gun represented

THE CUDAHY PACKING COMPANY

Sinking Fund 5 1/2% Gold Debentures

Dated October 2, 1922

Interest payable semi-annually, April 1 and October 1, in New York or Chicago. Debentures to be in coupon form in interchangeable denominations of $1000, $500 and $100, registrable as to principal only, the $1000 denominations being exchangeable for fully registered bonds. Coupon and registered bonds interchangeable. Redeemable as a whole or in part, except for sinking fund purposes, at any time, upon sixty days' published notice at the following prices and accrued interest: to October 1, 1927, at 107 1/2%, after October 1, 1927, to October 1, 1932, at 105, and thereafter at 102 1/2% except during the last six months they will be redeemable at par.

INTEREST PAYABLE WITHOUT DEDUCTION FOR THE NORMAL FEDERAL INCOME TAX NOW IN HEREAFOR DEDUCTIBLE AT THE SOURCE NOT IN EXCESS OF 2%.

The Cudahy Packing Company was incorporated in 1915, under the laws of Maine, to acquire property and business of its predecessor companies, originally organized in 1887, and is one of the largest packing-house concerns in the country, having plants in Omaha, Kansas City, Sioux City, Wichita, Salt Lake City and Los Angeles and 110 distributing branches in the principal cities of the United States.

These debentures will be a direct obligation of the company, and will constitute its only funded debt, except the first closed mortgage (dated December 1, 1916, due December 1, 1946), of which there are now outstanding $10,649,500 par value of bonds. Under the debenture agreement, the company will covenant, among other things, that so long as these debentures are outstanding: (1) it will not place any new mortgage on its present properties; (2) it will, at all times, maintain its net current assets, as defined in the debenture agreement, at an aggregate amount equal to at least 1 1/4 times the par amount of these debentures then outstanding; and (3) it will not pay any dividend on the company's stocks which would reduce the company's net current assets to an amount less than 1 1/4 times the par amount of these debentures then outstanding.

The financial statement of the company as of October 29, 1921 (the close of the company's last fiscal year), including these debentures and applying the proceeds thereof, as well as the proceeds from the recent sale of additional first mortgage bonds, shows total assets in excess of $64,450,000 and net current assets and net tangible assets, applicable to funded indebtedness of $21,195,969.96 and $52,888,633.14, respectively. It is estimated that the short term debt at the close of the present fiscal year will not exceed $7,500,000.

At present the company is operating on a profitable basis and will earn during the current year more than sufficient to pay dividends on its preferred stock. The profits, since incorporation of the present company, for the six years ended October 29, 1921, after deducting all charges, including depreciation, all taxes, and inventory adjustments, but before interest charges, have averaged $4,045,511.67 per annum. The annual interest charges on the funded and short term debt, as based upon the company's balance sheet as of October 29, 1921, to be outstanding after this financing, and funding interest on the current loans at 5%, will be $1,732,475.

The debenture agreement will provide for a sinking fund beginning April 1, 1924, with semi-annual payments amounting to $200,000 each, to be made in cash or in the debentures at par. Cash so deposited with the trustee shall be applied to the purchase and redemption of these debentures at not exceeding 102 1/2% and accrued interest, the debentures thus acquired by the sinking fund shall be canceled.

WE RECOMMEND THESE DEBENTURES FOR INVESTMENT.

Price 100 and Accrued Interest, Yielding 5 1/2%

These debentures are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to approval of counsel. Temporary debentures or interim receipts exchangeable for definitive debentures will be ready for delivery about October 5, 1922.

All statements herein are official or are based on information which we regard as reliable, and, while we do not guarantee them, we ourselves have relied upon them in the purchase of this security.

RIP TIDES CLAIM LIFE OF SAILOR BEASTS LEAP ON TRAINERS VICTIM OF SHOOTING IN HIDING LONDON'S SWEETHEART HERE BANK PLOT INQUIRY IS NEAR END

Member of Warship Crew, on Shore Leave, Drowns at Long Beach Enraged Animals Injure Two at Selig Zoo Leopard Claws Man Teaching It Trick Jump Lion Nearly Tears Arm Off Other Victim Action Taken to Save Fleming; Vengeance of Gangsters Feared Queen of British Flappers to Join Local Film Colony Three Witnesses Still to be Heard in Asserted Conspiracy

The grand jury investigation of the financial activities of Frank Thompson, H. C. Stagg, C. E. Fennell, Charles Francis, O. A. Garrett and others said to be implicated in the alleged bank robbery plot, will be completed tomorrow, Dep. Dist. Atty. Stagg, who is in charge of the investigation, stated yesterday that three more witnesses, whose testimony will close the grand jury inquiry, will be called tomorrow.

Fifteen witnesses were heard last Tuesday. Stagg and Thompson are charged with having obtained money under false pretenses, according to Dep. Dist. Atty. Stagg. Their arrest followed the arrest of Alva E. Smith, whose accomplices the two men are said to be in a grand plot to wreck twenty-three western banks by a manipulation of notes and certificates of deposit.

Stagg said to have been a salesman for Thompson, was served with papers in a replevin action to procure possession of a valuable fur, bought by Stagg, valued at $1500, bought by Stagg. The fur, bought by Stagg for his wife, was obtained by deputy sheriff for Bartlett A. Stern, 225 West Fifth street. Members of the firm stated that Stagg gave the company a cashier's draft for $2500 and received $1000 in change. A local bank wired to bank in Clarita, Okla., and was informed the draft was good, but when it went through the clearinghouse the draft was not honored.

Each of the complainants received a pamphlet on "Civil Marriage, Why It Should be Abolished," one on "The New State," advocating communism, and another, "The Scorpion," also declared to be of a radical nature. Each of the pamphlets, printed on yellow paper, was signed by "Mme. Lessing," who admitted last night that she was the editor.

MARRIAGE ABANDONED The pamphlet assailing marriage will be examined today by Federal postoffice inspectors, who will determine if it is unfit to be returned through the mails. Her other writings will be analyzed by investigators Diamond and Lane, who stated last night she may be charged with violating the Criminal Syndicalism Act.

In the meantime Mme. Lessing, a corpulent person with bobbed hair and wearing a robe which she claims are holy, is being held in the City Jail on suspicion of having committed a felony. The madame was arrested once before when her love cult on "Mount Helios," in Glendale Park, was raided by Federal authorities. She later was transferred to the psychopathic ward at the County Hospital, suspected of being insane, but later obtained her freedom. Since then her love cult has been but a memory, recreated only in her articles on yellow paper. She has been employed as a children's nurse in Hollywood.

Civil marriage, she claims is the most superior institution ever offered by man to woman, to God. She says it breaks the laws of nature and is a legal contract, and she offers a substitute for marriage. "Let us establish a House of Birth. We will call it the Temple of Hyman. It will be a new dawn of the world, and we will be ashamed of it. We have a period where we issue out the souls of the dead—we are not ashamed of the dead—we are proud of them. For the remainder of the passage the pamphlet describes what, to the author, is the ideal marriage." (Continued on Second Page)

Steam Shovel Works Hard to Pull Up Cable A steam shovel excavating for a building at Santa Barbara Boulevard and Figueroa street yesterday foreman brought up something with great difficulty, and at that moment some 700 telephones in the southwestern part of the city went out of order. It was a cable company that had been torn up. Linemen within a couple of hours had reconnected most of the telephones, but others could not be repaired until late last night. The steam shovel proved to be considerably more destructive to the service.

Lost Fortune in Few Years of Wedded Life Marriage apparently proved unprofitable for James R. Haddock. He was in Judge Summerfield's court yesterday in alimony proceedings. He said he had been married to his wife, Maude Haddock, for about 15 years. He said he had been married to her in 1910. He declared that his wife deserted him in April, 1913. Since the separation, Mrs. Haddock said she has been supporting herself. Now she is out of a position and needs support. Temporary alimony was denied by the court. In her suit for divorce Mrs. Haddock charges her husband with nonsupport.

SMYRNA HEROES HONORED Heroic Acts of Pomona Graduates Amid Atrocities of Turks Extolled at College News direct from Asia Minor concerning Smyrna, in whose present tragedy three Pomona College graduates are playing important and heroic parts, was featured yesterday in the convocation exercises of Pomona College at Claremont when Frederick Z. A. Blaisdell read a telegram from the secretary of the American Board of Christian Missions at Boston saying that Case Arthur Reed of the Pomona class of 1908 and Raymond Moreman, class of 1921, were, according to latest information, making an heroic effort to save the remnants of the shattered Christian community in that city.

Reading from The Times' dispatch of September 19 describing Moreman's heroic defiance of the Turks and his protection of 800 Christian orphans under the stars and stripes, President Blaisdell came to the climax of an eloquent convocation address and declared nothing could more strikingly testify to the ideals of Pomona College.

Pomona College has felt deep concern the recent events at Smyrna because the International College there has been designated an "outpost of Pomona College." For some years it has been the custom of Pomona College and its alumni to send a graduate to Smyrna to carry on the work of Christian education there. The three graduates at the present time associated with the International College are Dr. R. M. Moreman and Jacob Bassler of the class of 1922. The latter is on his way to Smyrna and a recent cable indicated that he had gotten as far as Athens.

Immediately following announcements in the manner in which Moreman's name was mentioned under the American flag and defied the Turks, the Pomona College student body formally saluted the Stars and Stripes as they were raised above Marston Quadrangle in the center of the college campus.

The closing of registration for the new college year shows a total enrollment of 763, which is the maximum allowed at the present time. Registrar Charles T. Pitts announced that the college was forced to reject more students seeking admission than it was able to accept.

PERFECT SAFETY:—Fear thou not, for I am with thee. Be not dismayed; for I am thy God. I will strengthen thee, yea, I will help thee, yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. Isa. 41:10.

PLUNDER REMOVED BY POLICE Woman Reporting She Was Robbed, is Later Arrested for Burglary

Who's a burglar? That was the question which some light was thrown yesterday when Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bowman, 4412 Hubbard street, Belvedere, were arrested in Judge Hinshaw's court on charges of grand larceny and burglary.

It developed that Bowman was arrested on the 14th inst. by Detective Sergeant Spinner and Ryan of the Wilshire Police Station, on suspicion that he had stolen a car and other supplies from the Salt Lake Railroad. They searched Bowman's house and removed what they claimed were articles stolen, including groceries and canned goods.

Shortly after the arrest of her asserted husband, however, Mrs. Bowman came home and, missing the stuff taken by the officers, reported to the Sheriff's office that she had been robbed. Deputy Sheriff investigated, learned the number of the car that had been seen by neighbors in front of the house and arrested on the 14th inst. A preliminary hearing will be given the two on next Friday at 3 p.m.

Where's the groceries you took from a house in Belvedere?—Hill being questioning the officers.

"They're in the property clerk's room," same the answer.

"She's in jail, too. We just arrested her on the same charges her husband is held on."

Mrs. Bowman is suspected of being implicated in a number of thefts credited to Bowman. The officers were arrested on the 14th inst. A preliminary hearing will be given the two on next Friday at 3 p.m.

RAIDING A RESIDENCE IN BELVEDERE said by the authorities to be a hiding place for local pickpockets. Deputy Sheriff Bell, Sweeney and Allen, with State Officer Peoles and Police Detective O'Brien, arrested three men early last night.

They seized a quantity of drugs, as well as some loot believed to have been taken from pedestrians by pickpockets.

Surrounding the residence at 415 Wellington avenue, the squad rushed the house just after dark. They arrested Glen G. Schultz, Robert Peters and William Haley. Schultz was locked in the County Jail charged with a violation of the State prison law, after a quantity of clothing. The others are held charged with suspicion of grand larceny.

According to the officers, the house in which the arrests were made is rented by a man with a long record as a pickpocket. It is said the place had been used for some time as a hiding place for pickpockets who have operated on the downtown streets. Among the articles seized were a quantity of empty pocketbooks and some checks. Efforts will be made today to identify the purses.

WIFE DEMANDS MUCH BUT AWARDED LITTLE

Mrs. Emmeline Biggs, who wanted $150 a month alimony, saying that her husband, Benjamin F. Biggs, earns $400 a month, was awarded $5 a week by Judge Sumner yesterday.

Mr. Biggs declared he was compelled to borrow $2000 during the two years they were married as he was a poor man. His wife, he said, was extravagant. A divorce suit, in which cruelty is charged on both sides, is pending between the couple.

MADAME FOR PEACE Mrs. M. Duchesse appeared yesterday, tactful and pacific. Anna Gould that was accurately called. Smart enough, sartorially speaking, and yet subtle, she dived elegantly on the lines that Queen Mary affects. NEWSPAPER IS SUIT'S STAKE
Widow and Daughter Seek to Control "Telegram"
Long Beach Publication the Bone of Contention Settlement is Seen and Case Goes Over for Day

A suit that developed before Judge Wellborn yesterday into a fight for the control of the Long Beach Telegram is between Mrs. May E. Roberts, widow of Frank Roberts, publisher of the Telegram, and his daughter, Belle McCord Roberts, by a former marriage. Mrs. Roberts is seeking the stock of the Telegram on the ground that it is community property. Mrs. Roberts contends that her father gave it to her under an agreement. The case was continued until tomorrow with a prospective settlement in negotiation. Mr. Roberts, who died last winter, married Mrs. E. Roberts more than a score of years ago. The couple separated about four years ago. Mrs. Roberts declared that her husband one day told her he would put the Telegram stock in her name and that it would be hers at his death. When he died she found that there were $200 shares of stock in the Telegram and that her husband had put away for his daughter 10,000 shares of which Mrs. Roberts had been ignorant. This would have given the daughter control of the Telegram. Mrs. Roberts testified her father brought her on from the East, where she was managing a ranch, to be his housekeeper and companion. He gave her the 10,000 shares, she says, in recognition of her services. Fredericks and Hanna represent the daughter. Frank A. Knight is counsel for the widow. A witness in behalf of Mrs. Roberts is George Brandon, County Treasurer of Hogan county, Bellefontaine, Ohio, a personal friend of the late publisher.

MIKE SORE AT TRAMP PELICANS
Out-of-Town Birds Steal Thunder, Cash in on His Reputation

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
LONG BEACH, Sept. 20.—If Long Beach folks don't stop confusing "Pelican Mike" with ordinary scavenger pelicans who occasionally stop off on the sands of this town for a brief visit and then fare forth to other shores, Mike is going to adopt a distinctive color scheme that will identify him for all time. Mike, gray old pouther, who is known to thousands of visitors and residents here for his singular wisdom, came to this conclusion today after police were notified by bathers that he had been ill on the beach at Maricopa avenue and needed immediate attention. More than a score of telephone calls were received at police headquarters to that effect, and Humane Officer Sam Stroh, a close personal friend of Mike, was sent to administer to the ailing pouther. Stroh found a sick pelican, but wasn't Mike. The bird, evidently having eaten something foreign to pelican nature, was in distress but showed considerable improvement late this evening as a result of the humane officer's ministrations. "I've never been in the film, so I ain't temperamental," said Mike when told this evening that he had once more been taken for a common tramp bird. "but I'm sure getting fed up on this here business of being reported dead or sick or something all the time. "It looks to me like these here San Diego and San Pedro Indians come to Long Beach just to steal my stuff and cash in on my reputation. If they don't cut it out I'm going to get me some different feathers, some classy regalia with a lot of color in it. "Say," Mike exclaimed suddenly as a happy thought struck him, "how would I look in a pair of them there Valentino pants? Boy! that ought to knock these tramp pelicans dead."

UNIQUE STREET FOR PASADENA
Crown City Will Line Its Pavement With Trees
Main Thoroughfare to Have Shady Borders

Subirrigation Systems to be Devoted by Official

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PASADENA, Sept. 20.—With the development of East Colorado as Pasadena's principal business street, most of the shade trees that formerly beautified it have disappeared. Now they are to be replaced, the City Directors decided today, acting on a suggestion by Charles E. W. Moore, manager of the Linnard hotels here. As a starter the city will plant St. John's bread trees in the pavement in front of the Federal Building, using a subirrigation system developed by Park Superintendent Jacob Albrecht. They will serve the double purpose of providing shade and stopping the glare from the white marble steps of the building facing the street. The City Directors favor St. John's bread trees for shading the street. The former are said to be rapid in growth, heavy in foliage and do not shed their leaves. The trees at the Federal Building will be planted at city expense. In front of private property, it is planned for the city and the property owner to share the expense. "Pasadena will have a street unique among business streets of the cities of this country if the tree-planting plan is followed out," City Manager Kolmer said. The park superintendent shown at Tournament Park that trees planted in pavements do well when they are irrigated from underground pipes. At the present time the Maryland Hotel has the only stretch of tree-shaded sidewalk in the business district.

Tentative Plans for High School Given Approval

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SANTA MONICA, Sept. 20.—Tentative plans for the new junior high school which is to be constructed at California and Washington streets, between Fourteenth and Sixteenth streets, at a cost of approximately $250,000, were accepted at the meeting of the Board of Education today. The board tentatively accepted a rough drawing of the new school submitted by Allison & Allison, Los Angeles architects. At the suggestion of Supt. Rebek the architects were instructed to immediately prepare plans and specifications in accordance with the rough drawing. Because $50,000 of the $250,000 voted for the school a year ago has been expended in the purchase of a site, only the main building will be constructed at this time. The supplementary additions will be erected as soon as funds are available.

Drugs Hidden in Odd Places, Say Officers

Secreted in window casings, in cracks behind the cellar stairway, and in holes in an old tree in the backyard, detectives declared yesterday they found morphine and cocaine valued at more than $3000 in a residence at 1933 South Los Angeles street. The house, according to Detective Sergeant Jackson, Littlejohn, Malthead and Yarrow and Inspector Earl of the State Board of Pharmacy, who conducted the raid, was the residence of "Charlie" Bettie, who is in the City Jail on a charge of violating the State police law. Indicating that women were frequent visitors to the asserted "dope den," the detectives say they found a quantity of women's clothing in one of the rooms.

ACTING JAILER GETS BOTTLE OF WHISKY
LIQUOR OF MRS. OBENCHAIN OBTAINED ON DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION

That bottle bearing the intriguing inscription, "Whisky for M. O. Obenchain," which was found in a locker in the County Jail, was handed over to Acting Jailer Bailey yesterday by Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, accused of the murder of J. Belton Kennedy. The liquor, it was stated, was prescribed by a doctor and was used on a few occasions by Mrs. Obenchain in egg-nogs while she was ill. There was still some whisky of a fine grade in the bottle.

JAPONETTE

BY ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

because what you just said set me thinking."

"Are you unaccustomed to thinking?" he asked to innocently; and he reddened again.

"We're intelligent," said Silvette calmly; "that's the trouble with us; and when, by degrees, we add a little more experience to our intelligence we'll be either exceedingly unpopular or—successfully married."

"How old are you, anyway?" he said, looking straight at her.

"Twenty-seven," she answered calmly. "Don't jump, please."

"What!" he exclaimed incredulously.

"Look about 19, don't it?"

"Certainly you do—about 19!"

"Well, I am 27; Silvette is 35. Don't bother with compliments."

"Good Lord! Are you the elder?"

"I'm 22," he said.

"A woman at 27 is centuries older than a man at 30," added Diana, "except, of course, in some things. Theoretically, Silvette and I are highly instructed; practically, the man of 30 is more specifically intelligent, which is no compliment to the man of 20."

Egerton, still astonished, sat back in his chair, considering.

"Do you know," he said, "I never suspected I had two such relatives in the world, who wear the appearance of debutantes with an assurance that convinces until their wit and wisdom convict them. Where were you educated, anyway?"

"In a southern boarding school and in a western university. After that Silvette studied law and was admitted to the bar. I am admitted to practice medicine. I am added demurely. "Does that scare you?"

"Do you think it has spoiled you?" he asked Silvette so naively that he made no attempt to control his laughter.

"Why on earth don't you do those two things I managed to ask at last. If you're entitled to exercise professions, why don't you?"

"We only studied out of curiosity," explained Diana. "We never intended to follow it up. Of course, we expected to remain always in pleasant financial circumstances."

Diana laughed deliciously.

"Do I puzzle you, cousin?"

"Are you trying to?"

"Of course."

"Well, you've succeeded. You're perfectly right, Silvette; I don't know anything about her now. Are there any more relatives you can assume, Japonette?"

"Many, monsieur. One of them is Japonette, if I choose."

"I wonder," said Diana, reflectively, "if you are anything of a snob."

"Play it," he said, "if you ever want to me to your Ohi."

"You behave," observed Silvette tranquilly, "like two rather ordinary young persons sitting."

"It's hot in here," he said; "show me your roof garden."

"Silvette," she called over her shoulder, "will you come up to the roof?"

Silvette nodded and continued playing an air from "Armide," they waited for her a moment, then they went out into the hallway and up to the roof.

"The garden of a thousand delights," she said with a sweep of her hand and a curtsy. "The Japanese fairy, Japonette, welcomes the true prophet of her frivolity."

He looked around at the flowers in pots—geraniums, verbena, fuchsias, heliotropes—homey, old-fashioned blossoms.

"I bought them from a peddler; I stopped his wagon in the street and made him carry them up here. They only cost $1, and I was economical at the market," she explained.

He glanced up at the awning gay with yellow and white stripes. (Continued in Tomorrow's Times)

PASADENA HITS FRANCHISE IDEA

Directors Unanimously in Opposition to Plan

Other Municipalities Sent Copies of Protests

Proposal Considered Raid on Local Rights

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent (EXCLUSIVE REPORT)

PASADENA, Sept. 20.—The Pasadena City Directors went on record today in opposition to the transportation franchise initiative measure, by passing a resolution which will be sent to the Mayor and City Council of Los Angeles and other municipalities with a suggestion that similar action be taken.

The proposal, which would take franchise-granting power from municipalities and transfer it to the State Railroad Commission, is destructive of home rule and at the same time a transfer of authority to matters of purely local concern, in the opinion of the directors. City Manager Keiser has been outspoken against the plan from the first.

DEFINITE OBJECTIONS

The resolution adopted declares that the proposed amendment to Article XII of the State constitution "would deprive the municipalities of the State of the power to control franchises;" would "centralize in an already powerful State commission the control of matters which are necessarily not uniform throughout the State;" that the Railroad Commission is "inadequately equipped to handle the local conditions of the State;" and that the "legislative bodies of said municipalities" are already burdened with "increasingly difficult" problems in rate making, and should not be asked to take on additional duties "which require intimate knowledge of local conditions."

The resolution further declares that the proposed amendment of the State constitution is inimical to the welfare of the municipalities of the State, the resolution states in closing.

UNANIMOUS PROTEST

The resolutions were adopted unanimously, with all the members of the board present except Chairman Hiram W. Wadsworth and Director Franklin Thomas, who Fires which began Sunday and which burned over 30,000 acres of brush and timber land in Soledad, Bouquet and Mint Canyons, were reported out or under control late yesterday by County Forester Flintham. The fires, which are said to have been the most disastrous to brush lands in years, consumed a number of small farm houses in the mountains.

According to Mr. Flintham, who returned last night from the fire, the entire mountain between Mint and Bouquet Canyons was burned over. Small fires were smoldering during the afternoon but fire fighters were at hand to prevent their starting again.

BIG LEAGUER TO COACH TROJANS

Another valuable addition has been made in the coaching staff of the University of Southern California.

Ralph T. Works, former major league pitcher, signed up with the Trojans yesterday.

Works played with the Detroit Americans for four years, but in 1918 he dislocated his knee three different times and was released.

He pitched in the world's series for Detroit in 1909 and has the record of being the youngest pitcher ever to pitch in a world's series game.

The new mentor has been coaching during the past few years and has turned out championship teams at Jefferson College and at Washington University of St. Louis.

At present he does not know whether he will do any football work or not, but expects to have charge of the freshman basketball team.

Pomona Sagehens Prepare to Pick Trojans to Pieces

A Few of Nixon's Hopes in Action

Macy Chamber, whom Coach Nixon heralds as his best lineman, is shown treating Braven Dyer, Sagehen end, a bit rough in the scrimmage.

Chambers, a guard in 1919 and 1920, will hold down a tackle berth this season. The gentleman who is endeavoring to pass the pigskin pellet is Ray Wilson, quarterback and captain of the Claremont football aggregation.

White states that he has a large number of candidates in line for the end position, but whether they will amount to anything or not is another thing. The men who are being considered to take the place of Dennis are Amos Buckley, former lightweight lineman and a youngster who has been showing lots of class this season; Pete Maczeta, Bustamente, Mack Cunningham and a few more lesser fry.

Higgs and Jones are both looking good for the center job, but Brentall Higgs, another former lightweight star, seems to have the jump on the action of the most popular family.

Kerr runs the mile in 4m. 30s. and the half in 2m. 30s. Nash broad-jumps close to 23ft. and runs the hundred in about 16 1/2s. Wall runs the high hurdles in 15 1/2s. and the low hurdles in 26s. All three were stars in the State and Southern California prep meets last year. This definitely splits up the ranks of last year's prep stars, as Houser and Thomas, weight demona, and Ed Shaw, quarter-mile and high jumper, have gone to U.S.C.

The frantic arguments regarding Bill Kerr, national prep distance champion; Bud Nash, prep broad-jumping demon, and Wall, the hurdling demon, were settled apparently once and for all when all three registered at Occidental College, paid their tuition, outlined their courses and otherwise signified their intention of attending the Tiger institution.

GLOOM RISES AT U. S. C.

Fay Thomas Comes to Trojan School; Practice for Alumni Game Progresses

The great gods of gloom which have been settling over the remains of Gloomy Gus Henderson, head coach of the University of Southern California, have lifted somewhat, according to good sources, although Gus still has a chronic case of the blues.

The reason for the change in the atmospheric conditions in the Southwest seems to be the fact that Fay Thomas, former star on the Owensmouth High School teams, has made his appearance in a football uniform and has shown that he is a coming fullback.

SECOND BUD HOUSER Thomas is hailed as a second Bud Houser, as he has at various times shoved the shot as far as

after a good look at him he is very well pleased. Another thing that has changed the set vinegar-like expression on the face of Gus, is the wire which he received yesterday morning to the effect that his missing star, John Milton, has just left Milwaukee on a fast express for the Trojan institution.

With this large amount of cheering news Gloom began to spout more encouraging talk than has been heard around his kingdom in the past year. He stated that the froth are getting along in fine shape. So well, in fact, that they are to play a scrimmage game with the varsity next Saturday.

The following Saturday they are to go to San Diego for a game with the border city high school eleven.

Just why Henderson shipped his youngsters off to the south is hard to tell, as his varsity squad is to play against the alumni on that date in the first game of the season.

The members of both the varsity and the alumni have been holding regular practice and are coming into good form. The alumni have such men as Frankie Malletta, Jimmy Smith, Leo Livernash, Bill Isenhower, Cole, Tyrell, Fred Tasky, Turk Hunter, Johnny Leadingham, Egan and Packard. About fifty of the has-beens have been on the field trying to get some of the rheumatism out of their joints and in all probability there will be several kids in the grand stand shouting for "Dad" to "hit that line."

Another means of injecting joy into the heart of Gus came into the light of day when the missing members of the team who have been scurrying in the east, and incidentally gaining points for the L.A.A.C. track team, arrived home. Norm Anderson, Otto Anderson, Norm Anderson, Otto Anderson and Bud Houser are the "wandering boys."

RACE DRIVER'S BODY ARRIVES FOR BURIAL The body of Roscoe Searles, who was burned to death in the Kansas City auto race on Sunday, will arrive on the Golden State Limited at 2 p.m. this afternoon. It was announced at the office of the local speedway association yesterday. Several of the drivers who participated in the race in which Searles met his death are accompanying the body. Funeral arrangements will not be made until after the arrival of the body, though it is probable the funeral will be held tomorrow. The body will be taken to funeral parlors at 4349 Hollywood Boulevard.

HEADS FOR SARATOGA (BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE.) CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Charlie White, Chicago lightweight, who is matched to meet Champion Danny Leonard at Jersey City, October 3, headed for Saratoga, N. Y., today to complete his training.

Hospital List of Los Angeles High School Takes an Alarming Aspect; Roy Dennis Out

"Seven o'clock and all's —" stated Coach White last night after he had finished patching up the remainder of the Los Angeles High School football squad following the hardest and most disastrous day of practice that has ever been held on Housh Field.

"My line is ruined," stated the usually smiling mentor as he shook his head with a look of deep concern written all over his countenance. "First they took Wachter, one of the best centers that we have ever had at Los Angeles, and after digging into the records, decided that the year which he spent in a private school was enough to make him ineligible. Now Dennis is out for the major part of the season and I haven't an experienced man to send onto the line to fill these places, and all of the men who are in the other positions on the line are green."

The truth may be hard to bear, but it must be faced. Roy Dennis has been permanently laid out for the larger part of the season. He tackled one of the scrub players in practice and tore a ligament in his shoulder, which will not allow him to play for at least two months.

The blow to the team is indeed a sad one, as he is considered one of the best ends in the city. Added to this loss of Wachter rather badly cripples the Pioneers.

White states that he has a large number of candidates in line for the end position, but whether they will amount to anything or not is another thing. The men who are being considered to take the place of Dennis are Amos Buckley, former lightweight lineman and a youngster who has been showing lots of class this season; Pete Maczeta, Bustamente, Mack Cunningham and a few more lesser fry.

Higgs and Jones are both looking good for the center job, but Brentall Higgs, another former lightweight star, seems to have the jump on the action of the most popular family.

The line escaped with little injury except to the backfield, a 72. This is par for the course.

Kerr runs the mile in 4m. 30s. and the half in 2m. 30s. Nash broad-jumps close to 23ft. and runs the hundred in about 16 1/2s. Wall runs the high hurdles in 15 1/2s. and the low hurdles in 26s. All three were stars in the State and Southern California prep meets last year. This definitely splits up the ranks of last year's prep stars, as Houser and Thomas, weight demona, and Ed Shaw, quarter-mile and high jumper, have gone to U.S.C.

The frantic arguments regarding Bill Kerr, national prep distance champion; Bud Nash, prep broad-jumping demon, and Wall, the hurdling demon, were settled apparently once and for all when all three registered at Occidental College, paid their tuition, outlined their courses and otherwise signified their intention of attending the Tiger institution.

MARY CONSIDERS NOVEL PLAN

By Grace Kingsley
That charming actress and professional mommer of stage and screen, Vera Gordon, whom the combined efforts of Uncle Tom and Little Eva cannot surpass in drawing sympathetic tears from an audience, nor swelling the family laundry list to greater proportions, is to appear in a full-fledged play next season, if present plans do not miscarry.

Whether you can imagine him writing a mother play or not, the fact remains that the author will be none other than Willard Mack. It seems that Mack has a wonderful new pink thought for a play for Vera Gordon, inspired by her work which he saw the other night at the Orpheum in "Lullaby."

And Miss Gordon herself is very anxious to appear in the play, which she and Mr. Mack discussed in her dressing-room following the close of her performance Monday night, when the playwright dashed back with tear-bedimmed eyes to talk to her. In this play, she will, of course, play a mother.

"Mr. Mack has a wonderful idea for a play," said Miss Gordon, "which the leading role entirely suits me. He promises me the first play within the coming year. But this also may be produced in the West."

Miss Gordon's vaudeville tour will end shortly, and she isn't going to be the least bit cross if the picture producers find out that she is at liberty for a few months, possibly longer. She has received several offers, in fact. However, she is bent on doing the Mack play within the coming year. But this also may be produced in the West.

Popular Mary Newcomb
It's regular old home week for Mary Newcomb, appearing in "Nice People" at the Mason this week. Formerly Miss Newcomb was leading woman at the Majestic and all her old worshippers are following her to the Mason.

"Everybody sent me flowers Monday night," said Miss Newcomb. "Why, included in the flower senders were a critic, two things-in-law, cousins of Bob Edson, my husband, and even the editor of my creditors. No, the last didn't send me forget-me-nots, either!"

Morocco Bulletin
They aren't going to let Gayne Whitman, leading man, go, if the court of law knows itself, and no doubt it does. Whitman has just renewed his contract with Oliver Morosco.

And while we are speaking of the Morocco, Frank Stanley is leaving the cast of the Mission Play, but will preserve his religious atmosphere by becoming the priest in that hardy perennial, "Abie's Irish Rose." Stanley will take the place of Arthur Rutledge, who is retiring from the long-run play to accept a road engagement.

Anna Nilsson with De Mille
Having completely recovered from the burns she received while playing the lead in the Reginald B. Park's production, "Heart's Adeline," Anna Q. Nilsson has been engaged by Cecil B. De Mille to play one of the leading feminine roles in his forthcoming production, the name of which is not yet announced. Miss Nilsson's role will be that of a superlatively beautiful woman, Pauline Gordon, recently recruited by the films from the New York stage, will play the part of the daughter.

On the completion of the De Mille production, it is possible that Miss Nilsson will join the ranks of the picture players who are taking their fling at vaudeville.

Vernon Trenline Busy
Miss Vernon Trenline, who is in the cast of "On the High Seas," Edward Sheldon's original screen story, now being shown at the California, has been recently headlined. She has now cast her lot permanently with pictures, and is being considered at present for a very big part in a large production shortly to be undertaken here.

Universal in High
There may be studios which resemble the deserted village, but Universal City certainly isn't one of them. Mike Boylan's typewriter machine got a hot box yesterday running in high, getting out announcements.

According to these announcements, true to Universal's policy of upholding the serial, Edward Laemmle is on his way back from Europe to direct "Acad" in another historical chapter play. It will be "The Trail Blazers," the story of Marcus Whitman's conquest to save Oregon for the United States. History is even being adapted to the screen by Anthony Colverway, under the supervision of Robert Dillon, who wrote "In the Days of Buffalo Bill."

Universal City becomes a port of call and ready to maintain its supremacy on the seas with the return from San Francisco of the skipper and crew of the Fish Patrol. After rolling through the northern Pacific for weeks, the company sent by Universal to film Jack London's sea stories, is back at the studio, where interiors will be made. Jack Muhl is the star and Louise Lorraine is leading woman.

Herbert Rawlinson has been selected as the star of "The Kidnapers," one of Richard Harding Davis' "Scarlet Car" stories, which will be filmed at Universal City. Stuart Patton will direct.

June Blivide, stage and screen celebrity, and David Torrence, New York character star, have been added to the cast of "Forsaking All Others," being filmed at Universal City as a special. Colleen Moore, Cullen Landis, Ray Wallace and Sam De Grasse have other big parts in Universal's adaptation of Mary Lerner's story which was originally in Collier's as a sensation in the popular story world. Emile Chautard is directing.

Another distinguished Frenchman has been added to the directorial staff in the person of George Archambault. He has just been engaged to direct "The Power of the Lie," a magazine story by John B. Borer. Charles Kenyon is directing.

HEARD TAKES LESSONS
Although "raced" as a "dancing fool" by members of the local motion picture colony, Herbert Rawlinson "had a strenuous time getting through the dance scenes in 'Confidence,' his latest production, which comes to the Superba next Sunday. Rawlinson had to have an instructor to teach him the steps, but he might add that the terpsichorean event in question was an old-fashioned country dance, of which matters the matinee idol is painfully ignorant.

NEW MACK SKETCH
Willard Mack is rehearsing a new dramatic sketch, written during his recent vaudeville tour. The title is "Raw Law," but Mr. Mack is reticent regarding the subject matter, except to say that it deals with a vital topic of the day. "Raw Law" receives its premier presentation next week at Panthea. Mr. Mack will have the support of his wife, Beatrice Banyard, and Forrest Craig.

NOTE: "The Times" Daily Wad Comic-Strip Contests Will be Discontinued on September 21 Until Further Notice. The Wad family, whose daily adventures in Los Angeles have amused Times readers for the past year, during which time more than $1500 has been paid by The Times for available ideas for the Wad strip, demands a vacation. Its members point to the fact that more things of a strenuous nature have happened to them in the past year than to any other family in Los Angeles and they insist upon a rest. Watt and Elva are going East to college, and Gunn has to go to school, says Mr. Wad. Mr. Wad and the baby to Honolulu, and Tight says he will go along if Mr. Wad pays his way, not otherwise. For these reasons the Wad strip will be discontinued for the present at the conclusion of that of this week, which ends Thursday. The prize-winning ideas and possibly a few others will appear thereafter.

KHJ Wave Lengths to Carry Their Artistry

ESTABLISH LISTENING INTERVAL
Twenty-Minute Periods
Each Night to Tune in Far-Away Radio Stations

Radio enthusiasts are to be given an opportunity to listen in to long-distance stations during the month of October, between the hours of 7:30 and 7:40 p.m. This decision, established by a twenty-minute listening period, was reached at a meeting of the Southern California Broadcast Association Tuesday night held at the City Club. It is believed that there are many owners of radio sets in the Los Angeles territory who will appreciate the opportunity to listen for broadcast stations in Denver, Salt Lake City, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, and other points where big stations are disseminating programs. The period is to be in the nature of a trout for one month with the understanding that if the public does not derive sufficient benefit from it the time will be re-allocated to local stations. To effect this the evening stations have given up five minutes of their regular schedule time, and KHJ's evening broadcast period, during October will be from 6:40 to 7:20 p.m., immediately followed by the long-distance listening period of twenty minutes, at the conclusion of which other stations will come on, from 7:40 to 8:20 and from 8:30 to 9 p.m.

ARTISTS' NIGHT
A prominent feature of the big radio show which is to be given by the affiliated radio interests under the direction of the Southern California Broadcast Association, on the roof of the Arnold Building, at Seventh and Figueroa, from October 9 to 14, inclusive, will be an artists' evening. All artists, both vocal and instrumental, and including speakers and others who have contributed to the broadcast programs of the Los Angeles stations, will be invited to attend the radio show on artists' night. The event will be in the nature of a reception tendered to them in appreciation for the splendid co-operation which they have given.

GIVE RECEIVER
Another feature of the radio show will be the giving away of a $500 radio set. Keen competition will attend this feature, as each person will be requested to indicate the set which is preferred in the event that they are fortunate.

During the show a master receiving set will radiate the programs of the various stations on the air from 2 to 9 p.m., affording an opportunity for all to hear radio under the most favorable circumstances. The broadcast stations are making every effort to put on the most desirable programs during the days of the show and many artists who have contributed to these programs will undoubtedly take advantage of this opportunity to hear what might be termed the other end of the broadcast programs. Unfortunately, the artists cannot hear themselves sing, or play on their instruments, but during this show they will be able to hear various classes of vocal and instrumental music sound over the radio.

ANGELENO IS HONORED BY SOCIETY
Senator Cole Honor Guest of Sons of Revolution at Noonday Luncheon
Personally representing the last eventful century of American history, former U. S. Senator Cornelius Cole, at a luncheon given in honor of his hundredth birthday anniversary at the Clark Hotel yesterday, stood before 140 members of the Sons of the American Revolution, and spoke eloquently of America's glorious future "providing the nation is kept by the people, and the people are kept by the principles of the American Republic."

With his hand stretched out above the banquet of 100 beautiful women presented to him by the society, of which organization he is the oldest member, Senator Cole declared the struggle of the early colonists for independence, declaring that it was our forefathers who had saved the world for democracy for all time.

"It is left for the Sons of the Revolution and for all good Americans to perpetuate the principles and the ideas for which Washington and his valiant army fought," said Senator Cole.

Following the salute to the flag, invocation by Dr. Hugh K. Walker, and a toast to Senator Cole, Frank H. Pettigrew, president of the society and chairman of the day, introduced Hon. Frank P. Flint, who spoke in praise of the honored guest, saying that it is the length of life that counts, but the use of the years made by the man to whom long life is granted.

"The glory of Senator Cole's life is that it has been a life well lived," said Mr. Flint. "California and the entire nation are better and richer today because of the useful, patriotic life of our honored guest."

Among other speakers were Marshall Hinton, Maj. W. K. Miller and Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe. "My political patron saint is that man whom I consider more Christ-like than any other man who has walked the earth since our Savior's time—Abraham Lincoln," said Judge Bledsoe. "Today I am honoring a man who walked with God when he worked with Abraham Lincoln. Because Senator Cole worked with the great Emancipator his own life became greater and stronger. His life is a blessed benediction to all who are growing inspiration to all true Americans."

CARD PLAYING LEADS TO DIVORCE COURT
As a card player, Mrs. Caroline V. Wells was not so good, according to the opinion voiced frequently by William A. Wells, her husband, a divorce complaint filed yesterday by the wife states. The husband commented on her playing often and once suggested that "everybody go to sleep until my wife has played."

COMMITTEE TO AID IN BUILDING LIBRARY
PLANS FOR OBTAINING SITE TO BE DISCUSSED TODAY
A number of prominent citizens are expected to attend a meeting to be held in Parlor A of the Philharmonic Auditorium at 3 p.m. today for the purpose of formulating plans which will aid them as a committee in co-operating with the library board in obtaining a location and immediate construction of the proposed library building.

The invitations, 150 in number, have been sent out in letter form by Melville Foster and Luther A. Ingersoll. These men were selected chairman and secretary respectively, of the committee at a meeting held on September 14.

Mr. Ingersoll said yesterday that the officers have not worked out any plans which they will suggest. This action, according to the secretary's statement, is to be taken tomorrow. The committee is expected to act as an advisory body to the library board.

COURT SAVES BEST GARBAGE FOR HOGS
Hogs are entitled to the best garbage, where a contract has been entered into.
So decided Judge Crail yesterday, when he granted William M. Gardner an injunction restraining J. Koschlah from disposing of restaurant and hotel garbage to others. Under the court's ruling he must deliver the first quality garbage to the plaintiff, who owns 100 hogs. The defendant is a garbage collector for the city of Glendale.

ASKS HEAVY DAMAGES
Plaintiff in Suit Asserts He Was Attacked by Defendants
The depositions of Mary C. Brightman and Lathan Brightman, mother and son, will be taken by Attorneys Williams and Ong to learn, if possible, what was behind the purported attack on Thomas E. Foster, a friend of the family. Mr. Foster declares that while visiting the Brightman home he was attacked by the defendants. His nose was broken, and he asserts he was threatened with death. He asks for $100,000 damages in a suit filed yesterday.

The parties reside in Long Beach. The purported attack was made May 11, last. The Brightmans are wealthy, having an interest in the Brightman Manufacturing Company of Dayton, O.

PARKING RULE ASKED
Residents Assert Cars of University Students Take All Space
Residents in the neighborhood of the Southern Branch of the University of California, on Vermont avenue, yesterday complained to the City Council that the parking space on the streets in that district are completely filled all day with machines belonging to students and that the residents and their visitors and customers have no room in which to park their machines. The petitioners asked that half-hour parking be established as the limit on Willow, Vermont and New York streets, between Vermont and Hill, and on Santa Monica Boulevard.

POLICE GET THREE CARS
The motor equipment of the police department was yesterday increased by the City Council by the addition of three Hudson touring cars.

WEST SIXTH-STREET IMPROVEMENT URGED
The improvement of West Sixth street by the elimination of steep grades and the widening of the street by the Business Men's Co-operative Association yesterday in a letter to the City Council signed by George M. Babcock, managing director of the organization.

The plan of City Engineer Griffith to lower the grade of Sixth street at least twenty feet at Beaudry street, and thus give Sixth street a diagonal direction from Loomis to Bixel street was endorsed by the association and subsequently brought suit, obtaining a judgment. Mr. Pearson is a director and stockholder of the association. The suit is an effort to recover the amount of the judgment.

SUES FOR JUDGMENT
Senatorial Candidate Loses Damages to Complaint
W. J. Pearson, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, must answer the suit of M. H. Oimstead, who seeks to recover from him on a stockholders' liability $5088.16. Yesterday Judge Crail overruled his demurrer to the complaint.

The plaintiff owned stock in the National Cemeteries Association and subsequently brought suit, obtaining a judgment. Mr. Pearson is a director and stockholder of the association. The suit is an effort to recover the amount of the judgment.

Armstrong's Linoleum
for Every Floor in the House

A floor like the clothes of a well-dressed man Harmonious, quiet and dignified

THE suit or tie worn by a well dressed man seldom calls attention to itself. Each article of apparel is part of a harmonious costume.

The linoleum floor of this shop is almost a complement of its stock. It is just as much a part of the store as are the goods on the shelves or the apparel in the showcases.

The floor in the illustration is Armstrong's Tile Linoleum with a black border. This photograph was taken in the Lindus Haberdashery Shop, Hobart Building, San Francisco.

Modern linoleum is much in demand as a floor for shops, offices, and public buildings. It withstands the hardest wear.

Armstrong's Linoleum can be had in colors and designs to harmonize with costly or simple furnishings. It is easily cleaned, and never needs expensive refinishing.

Armstrong's Linoleum makes a floor that is quiet and smooth under foot. When properly laid, it has none of the disadvantages of other types of floors. Linoleum is a waterproof, permanent floor that is not expensive.

If you are planning a building of any kind, or need new floors, consult your architect or any good linoleum merchant about Armstrong's Linoleum. We shall gladly send him data and specifications for laying. Or write for a free copy of our 48-page booklet, "Business Floors."

How to Lay Linoleum on Wood Floors
IN the rainy season the moisture in the air causes wood floors to expand. In the dry season they tend to dry out and contract, and may open up the cracks between the boards. Your linoleum floor, therefore, should be cemented (not tacked) over a lining of builder's deadening felt which has been previously glued to the bare floor boards. The felt takes up expansion and contraction and gives you a permanent, water-proof, good-looking floor. The added service and wear this method gives are well worth the extra cost.

START WORK ON REST COTTAGE

Ebell Club Breaks Ground for New Home

Organization Planning Many Activities

Several Noted Speakers to Address Members

BY MYRA NTE

Mrs. Grantland Seton Long, elected in June as president of Ebell, has been busy throughout the summer months arranging for the season's activities of this large and influential club. Yesterday, in a quiet way, the climax of the summer's planning was reached when the ground was broken for the new Rest Cottage.

Mrs. William A. Moses is chairman of the building committee and Mrs. George Harris Cole will be in charge of the philanthropic work as related to the cottage. Summer P. Hunt has been chosen as architect and Miss Julia Morgan of San Francisco has drawn the plans. She donated the plans yesterday and will work under the supervision of Mr. Hunt.

LONG SLEEPING PORCH
Rest Cottage will be built in the form of an H with sixteen sleeping-rooms accommodating twelve convalescents. An additional desirable feature will be the sleeping porch eighteen feet long. This home for women, supported entirely by the club, will be a place to salvage the broken health of professional and business women. For sixteen years, with constantly increasing success, such a home has been maintained at Olivette Heights until it has been outgrown. Last spring the present property was purchased and the building fund completed.

Yesterday, at the meeting of the social service department in the clubhouse, Mrs. Hot Johnson was appointed chairman of scholarship; Mrs. T. J. Fletcher, practical relief; with Mrs. Cook continuing as chairman of Rest Cottage. These are the three subdivisions of the club's philanthropies. Directors of this department for the coming year will be Mrs. William Read, Mrs. Lillian Sloan-Orrutt and Mrs. W. A. Moses. Plans were made to give three large social luncheons during the year.

ANNOUNCE OPENING
The October bulletin, which will be of the press next Tuesday, will announce the opening day, "President's Day," as it is called, for Monday, October 2, when Mrs. Long will give her address. There will be a musicale given by Evert Williams, tenor, and only members will be admitted.

Diet and Health

The rule to find ideal adult net weight is as follows: Multiply the number of inches over five feet in height, without shoes, by five and one-half and add 110 to this. If under five feet in height, multiply the number of inches under five feet by five and one-half, and subtract from 110. In other words, for five feet you are allowed 110 pounds. For every inch over or under, you are allowed five and one-half pounds more, or less, respectively.

E. You say you don't overeat, yet the picture you sent to me was of a decidedly nice fat girl. Your statement and your picture do not coincide, my dear. You say your local doctor says there is nothing the matter with you. I am going to disagree with him. You are too fat to be healthy. You know what you can do.

Mrs. J. R. R. Better see your physician. Are you over-weight? That may account for some of your symptoms.

Mrs. M. H. Yes. There is a natural opening.

E. L. It is quite the normal thing for one to be a little larger than the other. If you find no lumps in it by placing your hand flat on the bust, I should not worry about it.

Any breast tissue feels lumpy when you hold it between your fingers because the fat in the breast is held in connective tissue capsules. See your physician if you are in doubt at all.

Mrs. M. G. Moderate dancing, as you describe it, will not hurt you while you are pregnant. The pulling you feel on the side may be due to the extra work you say you do when it comes on. Better see your physician, however. You should be thankful that you have Volkenburg in a lecture reading of Murray's translation of "Medea" on October 20, and on October 27, a discussion of the Water and Power Act by Judson King and Leslie B. Henry. Altogether the first month's program is a tempting promise of splendid things to come. The program committee, which is a very excellent one, includes: Mrs. Andrew Stewart Long, chairman; Mrs. Randall Hutchinson, art; Mrs. Benjamin Goldman, drama; Dr. Dorothea Moore, literature; Mrs. Charles G. Sivers, music; and Mrs. Arthur C. Wier, public affairs.

The summer has been a busy one for the board of the Friday Morning Club which has been perfecting plans for the new building. The building will be after the manner of the early period of the renaissance in Italy, with an imposing memorial entrance beautifully carved. There will be six floors, and a mezzanine with a beautiful stairway leading to it. Altogether the new clubhouse shows every indication of being a very beautiful and satisfying home for the club.

GIRLS' JUMPER DRESS.
The most fastidious young person would be pleased with a sleeveless frock like this if it were made of Japanese crepe with a guimpe of dotted Swiss or printed lawn. The woman who is accustomed to making her children's clothes at home could probably make this frock in two afternoons at a cost of about 85c counting on a cost of 25c per yard for Japanese crepe and 35c per yard for lawn for guimpe. The embroidery design adds a very unusual air and is most certainly worth the extra time it takes to add it.

The girls' jumper dress pattern No. 1446 is cut in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 1 1/4 yards 36-inch material for dress with 1 1/4 yards 36-inch material for guimpe. Price 15c, stamps or coin (coin preferred).

Transfer Pattern No. 616—in blue only—15c extra.

When you order your pattern, we think it would pay you to enclose 10 cents extra to receive a copy of our SUMMER FASHION MAGAZINE which shows about 400 styles, including several pages of embroidery designs, and contains a seven-lesson course in dressmaking.

All orders will be handled by the branch office in Chicago and the branch office in Los Angeles. In forwarding we have arranged to have order sent direct to the Chicago office. Unless otherwise specified all patterns are 15 cents each. N. patterns are kept in the Los Angeles office of The Times. To get patterns in the Los Angeles office, stamps or well-wrapped coins, and the number and size of the pattern desired, address: FASHION DEPARTMENT, Los Angeles Times, 230 S. face or trailing behind or at each side, the new veils arrogate to themselves an importance quite unknown heretofore to these appendages.

Almost Estable
"Lovely enough to eat!" We have heard such an exclamation in regard to dress, and it might actually apply to a recent local import which has for finish a girle formed from velvet fruits half-rounded and standing out in more than a bag relief. The girle serves to enhance and to lend completion to a gown of new brown lace over pliant satin.

Hula Hula
"Hula hula sweaters" is my name for them, and they persist in popularity. I refer to those long fringed ones, which swing and sway as the wearer walks. The silk ones seem to give the most hula-lah effect, responding to every little movement as they do.

"Onion Skin"
With the incoming of popularity for brown, comes a revival of "onion skin." What's in a name? Would that brown by any other name smell as sweet—I mean would it be as popular?

Under Fashion's Ranners
Heavy laces and crepes are combined in many models.

A sheath gown of white moire has a train of scarlet tulle.

Brilliant hat pins are used in the dark little horsehair turbans.

Fine French stockinette is a material popular for sports wear.

The swathed line is generally accepted for the evening gown.

New evening wraps of huge proportions have "fence" collars.

The Turkish skirt has returned, but this time changing the ankles.

On the brim of a white organdie hat perch two crisp organdie lilies.

A unique coat for summer is made of chintz bound with carpet tape.

A fad of the season is to put the train of the evening gown in front.

A frock of figured crepe de chine is scalloped and bound with white crepe.

An oval design of black lacquered leaves trims a hat of black tulle.

Black is now being used more for afternoon frocks than for evening gowns.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—War experiments with cellulose "dope" for use on the wings of airplanes led to the discovery of what is said to be the most perfect artificial silk yet devised. The discovery is credited to Hans Zuercher, who has been working in Switzerland during the war for the purpose of carrying out research work for the protection of airplanes against fire.

The success of his experiments is indicated by the fact that Belgian financiers have been interested in the manufacture of artificial silk in that country, have invested in the new process. The process was evolved after three years of experiments, which have been conducted in airplanes "dope" made with cotton as a base to extremely high pressure until a new type of artificial strands of silk worm were created.
